N.B. Protests Ottawa Tax Dealings

Asks Congress To Curb Strikes

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman Monday called on the Republican-controlled congress to enact a four-point labor program designed to prevent strikes which stifle the nation's economy.

Appearing in person before a joint session of the senate and house, Mr. Truman proposed:

1. Enactment of legislation outlawing the jurisdictional strike as "indefensible."

2. Enactment of further legislation prohibiting secondary boycotts which involve "unjustifiable objectives." He said boycotts which are intended to protect wage rates and working conditions should be distinguished from those furthering jurisdictional disputes.

3. Legislation providing machinery whereby unsettled disputes over existing collective bargaining agreements may be referred "by either party to final and binding arbitration" and extension of facilities within the labor department for assisting collective bargaining.

4. Provision by congress for the appointment of a temporary joint commission to inquire into the entire field of labor-management relations and to make legislative recommendations not later than March 15.

Mr. Truman cautioned congress against adoption of "punitive legislation" and added:

"We must not, in order to punish a few labor leaders, pass vindictive laws which restrict the proper rights of the rank and file of labor . . ."

Republican leaders of the new congress already have proposed a number of labor bills ranging from re-enactment of the Case bill vetoed by President Truman last year to measures which would ban strikes in such essential industries as utilities and coal mining.

Two Dead, One in Hospital After North Shack Burned

R.C.M.P. in Edmonton Monday joined an investigation into a New Year's Eve fire near Girouxville, 300 miles northwest of Edmonton by road, which claimed two lives and sent one man to hospital with severe frost bite suffered when he ran nude for a half-mile seeking shelter and aid.

Police here said the bodies of Louis Bouchard, 55, and Annie Worotniak, 23, had been recovered from the ashes of a tar paper-covered shack while Thomas Bouchard, 30, nephew of Louis Bouchard, is in McLennann hospital with minor burns and severe frost bite.

McLennan is 15 miles east of Girouxville. The Bouchard shack was six miles west of Girouxville.

Supt. G. M. Gurleigh, of "K" division, R.C.M.P., Edmonton, said Monday that Thomas Bouchard told police he awoke late New Year's Eve to find the small shack in which he resided with his uncle and the Worotniak woman in flames. He said he managed to escape naked, but was unable to help the other two, and was forced to run a half-mile in 35 below zero temperatures through deep snow to a neighbor's house.

When neighbors arrived at the Bouchard shack, it was a smouldering ruin. They were unable to do anything about getting out the two persons still in the shack.

When the debris cooled the next day, R.C.M.P. from the McLennan detachment searched the ashes and found the remains of a man and woman. These have arrived in Edmonton for post-mortem examination.

R.C.M.P. state that Thomas Bouchard, who came from the east to reside with his uncle about two months ago, is unable to tell them how the fire started.

His condition was reported as satisfactory at McLennan hospital Monday.

First word of the fire reaching police was when Bouchard arrived at hospital early New Year's morning. Cpl. J. Fountain, R.C.M.P., McLennan detachment, immediately launched an investigation joined later by Sgt. J. C. McPhee and Const. O. Banting, from Peace River.

Higher Pork Prices Seen by Gardiner

WINNIPEG, (CP) — Federal Agriculture Minister Gardiner said here Saturday "there can be little doubt there will be an increase in pork prices to Canadian consumers as a result of the immediate increase in prices obtained from Britain for bacon.

"There is little doubt either that there will be a further increase in September when the price goes up $4 a hundredweight on bacon . . . . It would be necessary, however, to take into consideration quite a number of matters to determine how much that increase is likely to be."

Foreign Ministers Given Saar Issue

BERLIN, (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor in Germany, said Monday the foreign ministers' council, and not the Allied control authority for Germany, would handle the Saar controversy.

Clay announced the U.S. state department had told him the matter would be taken up on a government level by the foreign ministers in Moscow next March.

The French, whose German occupation zone includes the coal-bearing Saar, established a customs frontier on the German side a few weeks ago. Subsequently Clay said the action was "entirely unilateral" and the Allied control council here had not been informed. The French said they had given the foreign ministers, then meeting in New York, advance notice of the action.

Clay said the United States was urging that the Allies put a moratorium on post-war foreign investments in Germany until the economy was stabilized. American investments in Germany at the outbreak of war exceeded $1,000,000,000.

Present chaotic currency conditions, Clay said, would enable any foreign investors to acquire holdings out of all proportion to those of the Germans.

Last November Clay told the Germans unless they improved their handling of de-Nazification in 60 days he would take the job out of their hands. Monday he said that in view of an improvement, he had withdrawn the threat.

Charges French With Using Gas

PARIS, (CP)— The Viet Nam radio accused the French of using "asphyxiating gas" against their insurgent forces Sunday as sources close to the French federal government in Saigon predicted that a war on a growing scale seemed to be the only way out of the political and military deadlock between French and Indonesian forces.

BATAVIA, (AP)— Indonesian Premier Sutan Sjahrir announced Monday that street fighting had broken out in Palembang, Sumatra, centre of American and Dutch oil refining interests. He termed the military situation there "most serious."

The Weather

Forecast: Variable cloudiness, becoming clear this evening. Clear Tuesday, light winds, continuing mild.

Mild January weather will continue Monday and Tuesday in Alberta and western Saskatchewan.

A storm centre near Lake Winnipeg is giving strong northwest winds to Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The strong winds will bring cold polar air to eastern Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Elsewhere in the west the mild Pacific air will continue to keep temperatures above normal. Skies were generally cloudy throughout the west Monday but will clear in central Alberta Monday night.

Estimated low tonight, 23 above.

Estimated high tomorrow, 40 above.

At Edmonton Tuesday, sun rises 8:42; sets 4:32.

Yesterday's maximum, 42 above.

Overnight low, 26 above.

Precipitation, .02 of an inch.

50 Saved, 4 Die In New York Fire

NEW YORK, (AP) — A flash fire originating in a dumb-waiter shaft of a Harlem tenement caused the death of four persons and injured eight others early Monday.

Seven of the injured were said in serious condition.

The fire spread through the upper floors of the five-storey house in a few minutes and raged for more than an hour before firemen responding to three alarms, managed to extinguish it.

Firemen effected many spectacular rescues as members of three hook and ladder companies raised extension ladders to windows and fire escapes and aided more than 50 persons to safety.

Chinese Close Russian Radio

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Chinese police Monday closed and sealed the Soviet radio station here, in line with a new regulation closing all foreign radio transmission agencies in China.

The American-owned and operated station continued to operate and it was not known whether the Chinese intend to seal it also.

Sidney George Chambers, 34, former Toronto engineer, has been charged with the murder of Marion Rusnak, nine, St. Catharines, Ont., who disappeared two days before Christmas. Chambers was arrested following attempted suicide in the St. Catharines canning factory where he was employed.

Commence Inquiry In Worker's Death

Inquest into the death of Leo McLaughlin, 11050 95 st., 55-year-old city laborer who was crushed in a deep sewer cave-in on the south side Friday, opened Monday at Foster and McGarvey funeral home, being adjourned by Chief Coroner Dr. E. A. Braithwaite to a date to be set later. McLaughlin ventured into a part of a 13 to 17-foot deep sewer excavation that was not reinforced by timbers. A wall caved in, knocking him down and piling seven feet of earth on top of his body. McLaughlin's head was not covered.

L. McLaughlin

Five fellow workmen worked furiously to free McLaughlin, who was conscious for the first seven or eight minutes he was trapped. They freed him after 30 minutes' digging, with the help of two city firemen and Smith's ambulance employes, and rushed him to University hospital, but it is believed he was dead before he was freed.

The cave-in occurred on 76 ave., between 110 and 111 sts.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced. Besides his widow, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Jasper Caviness, Burlington, N. C., Leola, Francis and Ella McLaughlin, at home; one son, Roderick, at home; and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Comeau, and Mrs. Izetta, of Eastman, Calif.

Elizabeth Smellie Is Leaving V.O.N.

OTTAWA, (CP)—Announcement of the resignation of Elizabeth Smellie, one of Canada's foremost women, as chief superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada, was made Monday by Norman Paterson, president of the V.O.N.

Resignation of Miss Smellie, who has headed the V.O.N. since 1924, becomes effective May 31. A successor will be named later.

She was the dominion's outstanding woman in 1942.

In the First Great War she was decorated by the French and Belgian governments and received the Royal Red Cross, first class, from King George V.

In 1934 Miss Smellie was appointed a commander of the British Empire. Other honors conferred upon her include the Mary Agnes Snively Memorial medal, presented by the Canadian Nurses' Association in 1938, and the honorary LL.D., from the University of Western Ontario in 1942.

She was the first woman to hold the rank of colonel in the Canadian army, having served as matron-in-chief of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps nursing service from June, 1940, until her retirement in March, 1944.

Miss Smellie leaves here Wednesday on the first lap of a tour of V.O.N. branches throughout Western Canada. She will visit branches at Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria and attend the annual meetings of each division.

Family Escapes In Gas Explosion

VANCOUVER, (CP) — A gas explosion rocked the home of A. D. Calder here Sunday night. Calder, his wife and their two small children escaped unhurt but flames gutted the one-storey home and all their belongings and furniture were lost.

Calder said he was working on a leaky gas main when the fumes exploded. He and his wife rushed to their children's bedroom and rescued four-year-old Linda and a five-months'-old baby. As they got out of the house, flames shot out of all corners of the building.

BAN PAPERS IN SAAR

BERLIN, (AP)—French authorities have thrown an information control barrier around the Saar which prevents this disputed territory from receiving German newspapers published in the American and British zones in a proposed free exchange of newspapers between the three western zones, American military government officials said Saturday night.

Guard Suspect In Girl's Killing

ST. CATHARINES, (CP)—Jittery Sidney George Chambers—the man who could not kill himself—waited under constant guard Monday to face hearing in the "furnace murder" of nine-year-old Marion Rusnak, who police say, was slain and her body burned in a local cannery.

During the week-end Chambers was under 24-hour guard, both to prevent further suicide attempts and to nip in the bud any incipient mob violence.

Police charged the 34-year-old stationary engineer with murder after receiving what they said was his confession on Saturday.

The police gave this account of Chambers' efforts to destroy himself:

He first slashed his wrists as he lay in bed in his dormitory room at the cannery; the blood congealed and stopped flowing.

Next he turned on the gas and lay down to die; he awoke, groggy, but still alive.

Cut Down By Guards

Six days ago he placed his head in a gas oven. This attempt led to his arrest after he was found and taken to hospital.

Fourth and fifth attempts, police said, were made Saturday when he tried to hang himself in his cell but was cut down by alert guards.

When first questioned by police in hospital, Chambers denied any knowledge of the Rusnak crime and said marital difficulties prompted the suicide attempt. He said he was estranged from his wife and had an eight-year-old daughter in Toronto.

Check Furnace Ashes

But Saturday investigators washed a pile of ashes in cannery furnace room and discovered a substance "not believed to be ashes." Police said the confession followed.

Chamber then appeared in court to hear himself charged and to be remanded until Jan' 10.

His alleged confession ended the most intensive manhunt in the history of St. Catharines. From the day Marion Rusnak disappeared two days before Christmas volunteer bands of citizens searched the district for clues that might solve her disappearance. It had been planned to drain the waters of the old Welland canal Sunday to search for her body.

Full-Scale British Offensive In Palestine Is Predicted

LONDON, (AP) — Government sources said Monday British military authorities were preparing the biggest offensive in modern Palestine's history to crush what they called "the open rebellion against law and order" by Jewish extremists.

All branches of Britain's army in the Holy Land, estimated at 100,000 men, will take part, these sources said. Troops from Egypt are reaching the Holy Land as reinforcements.

The trigger for the operation is expected to be British cabinet ratification of proposals formulated conferences among Palestine's high commissioner, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Prime Minister Attlee, Foreign Secretary Bevin and Colonial Secretary Jones.

The informants said the British government took the view that whatever settlement finally emerged for Palestine, imposition of law and order was Britain's first obligation.

A final decision on Palestine's fate also may come from Britain this week. The possibilities include:

U.S. Asks Russia and China Open Dairen Port to World

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The United States has asked Russia and China to arrange without further delay the end of Soviet military control of Dairen and open the Manchurian port to world traffic under Chinese administration.

The action, announced Monday by the state department, was the first official step taken by Washington after refusal of Soviet authorities Dec. 20 to allow three American civilians to land at Dairen. The Russians ordered the United States naval ship which took the civilians there to leave port in 20 minutes.

The 20-minute notice was served after the ship overstayed a 48-hour permit under which it had entered. State department officials have said the Russians were within their rights in ordering the ship out and have refrained from any criticism of the so-called "ultimatum" nature of the departure order.

Note Is Delivered

The state department said a note was delivered to the Soviet foreign office at Moscow and the Chinese foreign office at Nanking Jan. 3. It said:

"The American government considers it desirable that the current unsatisfactory situation with regard to the status and control of the port of Dairen be promptly considered by the Chinese and Soviet governments with a view to the implementation of the pertinent provisions of the Soviet-Chinese agreement of Aug. 14, 1945, in regard to Dairen.

"This government perceives no reason why there should be further delay in reopening the port under Chinese administration, to international commerce as contemplated in the aforementioned agreement.

Sees Responsibility

"The government of the United States, while fully appreciating that this is a matter for direct negotiation between the Chinese and Soviet governments, feels that it has a responsibility to American interests in general to raise the question with the two directly interested governments. It hopes that the abnormal conditions now prevailing at Dairen may be terminated at an early date and that normal conditions may be re-established which will permit American citizens to visit and reside at Dairen in pursuit of their legitimate activities.

"In the foregoing connection, this government also wishes to express the hope that agreement can be reached soon for the resumption of traffic on the Chinese Changchun railway.

"It is believed that prompt implementation of the agreements with regard to Dairen and the railway would constitute a major contribution to the re-establishment of normal conditions in the Far East and the revival of generally beneficial commercial activity. This government therefore would be glad to have the assurance of the Chinese and Soviet governments that all necessary steps to this end will be taken in the near future."

If Bilbo Unseated He'll Be Back Again

WASHINGTON, (NANA) — Suppose Senator Bilbo is unseated—then what?

The governor of Mississippi must appoint someone to fill his unexpired term. The governor will name Bilbo.

Within 90 days Mississippi must call a special election to choose someone to succeed him. Bilbo will be the only candidate. No one would dare to run against him.

Bilbo will then be back knocking at the door of the senate.

Thus it may not be easy to remove permanently the senator from Mississippi. At least, this is the analysis offered by a source close to Mississippi politics and close to Bilbo.

Bilbo Goes Home, Faces Operation

By Peter Inglis

WASHINGTON. — Theodore Bilbo left Washington early Sunday for his Mississippi home, travelling in a shiny 1946 Cadillac which was allegedly among the gifts which a senate investigating committee was told, war contractors gave him when they "just happened by" and saw him in need.

The night before, he had accepted a Republician-Democratic compromise by which he is barred, for now, from his seat in the senate, but retains the emolument of senatorship — including a $12,500 salary, a $2,500 expense account and an executive assistant at $8,000 a year — while he undergoes an operation for cancer of the mouth and throat. It has been reported in Washington that his doctors give him only six months to live.

Meanwhile the senate, stalled for the best part of two days by the Bilbo affair and its resultant southern filibuster, has been able to complete its organization under the new Republican majority and Monday received President Truman's state-of-the-union message.

But some observers here believe all this does not mean that the Bilbo question has been shelved even for the two months which are the minimum for his absence.

With the first faint thumpings of the 1948 presidential election campaign already audible, both parties have an interest in a quick solution in some of the questions which the two-party compromise over the Mississippian has left unanswered.

Notably, both Republicans and northern Democrats are concerned over the Negro vote.

The northern Democrats are reported to fear that the filibuster staged by their southern fellows may count against them in the eyes of colored voters all over the country. The Republicans are reported determined to make the most of their stand for racial equality at the polls, the violation of which was one of the principal arguments to keep Bilbo from his seat.

Premier McNair of New Brunswick, who disclosed Monday that his government has suspended tax negotiations with the dominion government, charging discrimination in favor of British Columbia.

Baruch Resigns U. N. Atomic Body

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, completing the job that he once said might close out his public career, resigned Saturday night as United States member of the United Nations atomic commission. In a letter to President Truman he said there is no reason why the United States should not continue to make atomic bombs.

Baruch expressed his view on continued manufacture of the bomb, which is contrary to Russia's urgings to outlaw the weapon promptly, in his letter of resignation.

Truman, accepting the resignation, said that from now on, American atomic representation at the United Nations should be centred in Warren R. Austin, member of the security council.

In resigning, Baruch acted promptly after the U.N. atomic commission had adopted, under his constant pressure, the main essentials of the American plan. The commission finished its work a few days ago and the whole vast issue of atomic control and disarmament moved actively into the security council.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Reaction in United States circles to Bernard M. Baruch's resignation as American representative to the U.N. atomic energy commission Monday centred around any effect on the differences still splitting Russia and the United States.

Delegates, expressing regret at Baruch's leaving, were slow to comment on the possible political implication but one factor was worth noting.

From the first Baruch has stood firm on the major points of his plan for control of atomic energy and has stated repeatedly he would not give way.

In some quarters passing of the United States representation from Baruch to Warren R. Austin, who will take over the permanent security council seat, was viewed as opening the way for more leeway in the American stand.

Baruch has been especially firm in insisting that there be no right of veto to protect violators of any control system.

North Fire Victims Are Brought Here

Two men seriously burned in a bunkhouse fire at Negus Mines Ltd., Yellowknife, N.W.T., on Dec. 24 reached Edmonton by plane during the week-end. They were admitted to Royal Alexandra hospital for treatment which may involve skin grafting operations.

The men are Del Hunter, who formerly lived at 9939 78 st., and Jack Chipchase, of Aylmer, Ont. The early morning blaze which destroyed the bunkhouse claimed the lives of three men. Mike Rzepta, Kenora, Ont., died in the fire. Allan Colquette, 21, of Owen Sound, Ont., and Wallace J. Nault, 24, of Fairholme, Sask., died in hospital at Yellowknife from injuries.

Another victim reported in serious condition is M. Masaryk of Yellowknife. It was reported Monday he will be flown to Edmonton for treatment as soon as he is well enough to travel. Two other injured men, W. Collins, Fort William, Ont., and Jack Neimi, Mimico, Ont., were reported released from hospital in the north during the week-end.

Cause of the fire still is unknown and an inquest was opened recently but stands adjourned temporarily.

Europe Suffering In Frigid Blasts

LONDON, (AP) — Frigid blasts spread a wide belt of cold over Europe Monday causing death and suffering and a heavy drain on short fuel stocks.

Suffering was intense in Berlin, where a bitter east wind sent the temperature plunging to two below zero. The city statistics bureau said it was the coldest winter since 1940-41.

Snow—the first since 1942—blanketed Rome. Children, many of them poorly clad for such weather, sledded down the seven hills of the city.

A family of seven froze to death at Cividale, in northern Italy.

Suburban London, with a low of 25 degrees, was the coldest spot in Britain. Snow fell throughout England and Wales as electric companies warned householders of impending five and 10 percent cuts in current. Many British homes are heated solely by electricity.

Sees 'Affront' In B.C. Pact

FREDERICTON, (CP)—Announcement that New Brunswick has suspended taxation negotiations with Ottawa was made Monday by Premier McNair, who charged "gross discrimination" on the part of the federal government and termed the dominion offer to British Columbia an "affront" to New Brunswick.

As there seemed little likelihood of an early settlement, he said municipalities could draft legislation in the personal income tax field and the provincial government would prepare legislation to re-enter the corporation tax field. These fields were relinquished to the dominion in the war-time tax agreement which ended Oct. 31.

"As head of the government of this province I could not ask my fellow citizens to accept the proposals of the dominion government which would inevitably place them in a less favorable position than citizens in other parts of Canada," Mr. McNair said.

He released the text of a telegram sent to Prime Minister King Dec. 17 when some of the terms of the British Columbia agreement were made public.

The telegram declared New Brunswick had been compelled to reconsider its position in view of the federal government's offer to the other province.

The telegram further stated:

"When the dominion government sees fit to redefine and publicly restate to the province its financial proposals with assurances to safeguard it against such variable and discriminatory results, we shall consider reopening discussions."

Mr. McNair also said in the telegram New Brunswick had no issue with British Columbia, "which is entitled to seek the best terms available," but "we find it impossible to understand the action of the dominion government in negotiating a deal entirely outside the ambit of the budget proposals without counterbalancing adjustments for other provinces. The present situation is entirely unacceptable to this government."

Premier McNair said not only would British Columbia be getting approximately $21 per capita allowance as against New Brunswick's $15 but the gap between the two provinces would continue to widen as Canada's gross national production grew.

Under the plan originally outlined for British Columbia, based on the budget proposals of last summer, that province was to get $18,072,000 annually, with the annual payment

Vast Pacific Storm Wanes, Palmyra's 108 Cancel S. O. S.

HONOLULU, (AP) — Low-lying Palmyra atoll's 108-man garrison of Americans, munching sandwiches as the storm-tossed south Pacific swirled around their feet, declined proffered rescue as "not needed," navy emergency centre here reported Sunday night.

Monday the United States navy reported "the immediate danger past and the situation under control," with the tides subsiding.

The vast storm that flooded their six-foot-high islets battered earlier at waterfront installations and buildings in Hawaii, 1,000 miles north and stirred rumors of deaths in Alaska before it faded into the Arctic. In all, it swept across more than 2,000,000 square miles of the Pacific, but left no confirmed casualties.

Alaska Deaths Rumored

Alaskan department army headquarters at Anchorage said no lives were lost and no great damage was done in Alaska or the Aleutians. At Nome, blacked out briefly by a power-line breakage the army said it could not confirm rumored deaths of several persons in the Hooper Bay area, 300 miles south.

There were no fresh reports of destruction in Hawaii, where smashing waves did hundreds of thousands of dollars damage Saturday.

Urgent distress messages cracked from Palmyra's radio before dawn Sunday saying heavy seas were sweeping the island and threatening its personnel.

The first flash requested a ship to stand by to evacuate. But within 15 minutes, it reported: "Back on duty; water receded a little," and soon added: "Cancel everything."

Help Not Needed

Three ships and sufficient planes to evacuate the entire garrison were nevertheless rushed toward the atoll.

By evening, contact with Palmyra's long-silent radio was re-established and the navy reported the first rescue plane had arrived but was "not needed."

The weather bureau at Seattle said the storm carrying snow and rain before it, hit the Aleutian islands Saturday but was decreasing in intensity in the Bering sea.

Parrot's 'Hey, Pete' Gives Fire Alarm

ENDICOTT, N.Y., (AP)—Punkin, a parrot, knew something was amiss Monay morning, but he couldn't find the word for it.

The living room furniture was on fire.

"Hey, Pete!" the parrot screamed until his owner, Theodore E. Peters, awoke.

Peters smelled smoke and dashed downstairs to find a chair and rug in flames.

"Fire!" Peters yelled.

"Fire!" the bird responded.

Paper Holds Poll On Royal Wedding

LONDON, (CP)—Discussing engagement rumors linking Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip of Greece, the Daily Mail in an editorial Monday said Their Majesties the King and Queen "both as monarchs and as parents can surely be trusted to safeguard the future of their eldest daughter who will one day be our Queen."

The newspaper said the days when dynastic marriages meant power politics were past.

"In 1947 nations are linked—or separated—by far different forces," the Daily Mail said.

The Sunday Pictorial asked its millions of readers to answer the question: should Princess Elizabeth marry Prince Philip?

Devoting its front page to the launching of a public poll, the newspaper asked its readers to consider the question with "sympathy and wisdom" and send their views to its "royal marriage" department.

"Above all," the Pictorial declared, "the loyal people over whom the Princess will one day rule as Queen must also be afforded the opportunity of expressing their views—not after the event, as occurred over another royal crisis in 1936, but before it."

The other "crisis" referred to was the abdication of King Edward VIII, now the Duke of Windsor, to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Will Try Harris In Passport Case

OTTAWA, (CP) — Magistrate Strike said Monday there was sufficient evidence to commit for trial Dr. Henry Harris, Toronto optometrist, who appeared on preliminary hearing on two charges arising from an alleged attempt to obtain a false Canadian passport for a Russian agent.

Igor Gouzenko, former Russian embassy cipher clerk, was called as the first crown witness at the preliminary hearing.

Dr. Harris is the last accused to face preliminary hearing as the result of the Canadian espionage probe.

Hertzog Claims Bolivian Victory

LA PAZ, Bolivia, (AP)—Enrique Hertzog, former cabinet minister and one of four candidates for the Bolivian presidency, claimed victory Sunday night in the country's first election since Gualberto Villarhoel was deposed in a bloody revolution and hanged from a lamp-post last July 22.

Hertzog made his claim despite meagre returns and the fact that his narrow lead might be wiped out in the unreported outlying provinces.

He was a few hundred votes ahead in the incomplete count in La Paz and had won in three other cities.

Vast Irrigation on Prairies Advocated by St. Laurent

MONTREAL, (CP)— External Affairs Minister St. Laurent called Monday for a proper balance in the choice between measures essential to Canada's future greatness and "the natural desire to cut down our expenses and lighten the burden of taxation on our people."

To the Canadian club, he cited harnessing of the watershed of the Rockies and the building of legations in world capitals as two of the problems requiring "bold and perhaps even venturesome" decisions by men who "believe Canada's destinies have barely commenced to be revealed."

Benefit to West

Mr. St. Laurent said millions of tons of water run off yearly from the eastern slopes of the rockies, if used for irrigation purposes in the western plains, would multiply several times the opportunities for productive agricultural investment and labor in the mid-western provinces.

"Farming communities south of our border are eyeing those waters with some feeling that if we do not see fit to make use of them, they should be allowed to do so," the minister continued.

"Can we, in fairness to the Canadian generations of the future, allow such natural wealth to be diverted from our own territory and put to uses from which it would be extremely difficult afterwards to withdraw it?"

Need Foreign Quarters

Another question to be answered was whether the future Canada would require important diplomatic and trade representation in world capitals such as London, Washington, Paris, Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

"If it is," he said, "Canada should even now provide itself with permanent quarters in these capitals, though it may involve some large capital expenditure."

In judging these questions, Mr. St. Laurent said, proper balance was necessary because, although things essential to future generations must not be left undone, the future must be built "on the strength and capabilities of the Canadian people of our own day and generation."

Self-Styled 'God' Hanged in Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, (Reuters)—Suleiman Murshid, self-styled "God," who during his 23 years of tyrannical rule over 50,000 peasants in the wild mountainous country of northwest Syria amassed a fortune by exercising his "divine right," was hanged Sunday before a huge crowd in this city's principal square.

Murshid was sentenced to death last month after his capture in a 10-hour mountain fight between peasants and the Syrian gendarmerie. But before he surrendered he shot his favorite wife, Um Fateh, blaming her for his downfall.

The "god" was tried for treason before a special high court in Latakia. This charge was not proved, but he was given a death sentence for murder, robbery and pillage.

Four Drumheller Homes Ransacked

DRUMHELLER, (CP) — Thieves who ransacked four homes here during the week-end, and escaped with $215 in cash took time out to wreck clothes and furnishings in places, police said Sunday night.

At one house, they stuffed a woman's new coat into the cook stove. A member of the family returning home smelled and found the ruined coat in flames. At a second house, the thieves broke four dozen eggs, poured milk and opened jars of canned fruit over the kitchen table.

Two More Holdups Plague Vancouver

VANCOUVER, (CP)—While police continued their drive against suspected criminals here, holdup men struck twice in Vancouver over the week-end, robbing a taxi driver and a grocery store proprietor.

Two gunmen forced their way into the home of the grocer, Attilo Girardi Saturday night, chased him to an upstairs room, where they forced Mrs. Girardi and a woman companion into a closet, then robbed the grocer of $300 in cash and cheques. Mr. Girardi said the gunmen escaped in an automobile driven by a third man.

The taxi driver, Charles J. Clemens, told police that a man and woman, who had hired his cab, robbed him of 12 in cash Sunday.

He said the man pressed what he thought was a gun into the back of his neck and ordered him to turn over his money. The couple then forced Clemens from the cab and drove off with the vehicle.

Meanwhile the number of suspected criminals arrested and charged with vagrancy by Vancouver police in their drive against crime in the city rose to 34 Sunday with the arrest of six persons, including one woman.

When Kidneys Work Too Often You May Lose Sleep and Energy

If you are embarrassed and annoyed by too frequent elimination during the day or night or if you suffer from Burning Passages, backache, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Frequent Headaches and Colds, and feel old before your time, Kidney and Bladder troubles may be the cause.

Worry, Colds, working too hard, or over-eating or drinking may create an excess of Acids and overload your Kidneys so that they need help to clean out poisonous wastes that might otherwise undermine your health.

Help Kidneys Remove Acids

Nature provides the Kidneys to clean and purify your blood and to remove excess Acids. The Kidneys contain about nine million tiny tubes or filters through which the heart pumps blood about 200 times an hour, night and day, so it's easy to see that they may get tired when overloaded.

Nearly twenty years ago a scientific formula called Cystex was made available to the public through drug stores, making it easy and inexpensive to help thousands suffering from Kidney and Bladder troubles in these three simple ways: 1. Help the Kidneys remove excess acids which may become poisoning and irritating. 2. To palliate burning and smarting of the urinary passages, and bladder irritation. 3. Help the Kidneys clean out wastes which may become poisonous if allowed to accumulate, thus aiding nature in stimulating an increase of energy, which may easily make you feel years younger.

Liberal Trial Offer

To prove that Cystex may be the very medicine you need, accept this liberal trial offer: Get Cystex from your druggist today. Give it a fair trial exactly as directed and watch for quick help, a rapid increase in pep, and new joy in living. Full-Scale British Offensive In Palestine Is Predicted

Land, which would create independent Arab and Jewish states.

2. Considered a last resort solution, British surrender of its League of Nations mandate to the United Nations.

Whatever solution is adopted, with or without Arab and Jewish consent, government sources said the United Nations would have to ratify the new arrangements.

The Arab league said Sunday its seven member nations would be represented at a conference on Palestine scheduled to start here Jan. 21 under sponsorship of Great Britain.

Preparing Solution?

Haganah, relatively moderate Jewish underground defence organization, broadcast from Palestine a secret-radio plea for an end to violence and professed knowledge that "the British government just now is preparing a solution of the Palestine problem."

The Jews, still have not accepted an invitation to the London conference.

The Arab league's decision to come to London was made public by the secretary-general, Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha in Cairo. He said league delegates would demand an independent Arab government in Palestine and oppose "any partition scheme" or further Jewish immigration.

The league represents Egypt, Syria, Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon and Yemen. Sunday's announcement came in the face of a Christmas plea of the Palestine Arab executive committee that the league boycott the conference unless Britain invited Jah Amin el Husseini, exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, and agreed to discuss Araba independence.

Strong Measures Demanded

London newspapers meanwhile demanded strong measures to end violence in the Holy Land.

In its broadcast, Haganah blamed Irgun Zvai Leumi and the so-called Stern gang, extremist Jewish underground groups, for recent attacks on British troops.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, in another underground-radio broadcast, said flame throwers would be used further against the British, as they were last Thursay. The broadcaster listed British casualties in Thursday attacks as one officer killed and 20 soldiers and five policemen wounded. He said underground casualties were only two wounded and reported that the flamethrowers were converted fruit-tree sprayers.

Stoning of a London synagogue was reported Monday by police a few hours after Jews from all parts of the city attended the ceremonial burying of sacred scrolls burned in the Dollis Hill synagogue by persons who broke in a week ago.

Two youths broke windows and gas mantles in a Bayswater synagogue, Scotland Yard said. Then fled when the caretaker discovered them. The attack was the third on a London synagogue in recent weeks.

JERUSALEM, (AP) — British military authorities announced Monday that a road mine exploded at dawn about 100 yards in front of a troop-laden truck near Petah Tikvah, but caused no casualties. Three soldiers were wounded near the same spot when their jeep struck a mine three days ago.

Study Air Dispatch All First Class Mail

OTTAWA, (CP) — No immediate plans to move all first class mail by air are being contemplated by the government, a post office spokesman said Monday.

A report from Vancouver quoted Ald. C. E. Thompson as saying the move was receiving official attention. The spokesman said the post office for some time had been studying the matter but no decision had been reached.

N. B. Protesting Ottawa Tax Deal

to remain at the level until such time as the increase in population and the application of the gross national product factor would produce an amount in excess of the $18,572,000 figure when based on the $15 per capita allowance offered all provinces.

That plan was acceptable to New Brunswick because of the so-called "escalator" clause, whereby the $15 per capita allowance increased with population and in proportion to the gross production. This meant, said Mr. McNair, that in due course other provinces would overtake British Columbia.

The agreement which British Columbia had tentatively accepted, however, would raise its per capita allowance to approximately $21. It would receive $21,000,000 this year plus that which would accrue from the gross national production.

Would Write Off Debts

In addition, the federal government had signified its willingness to write off $8,000,000 in depression debts and assist her in refunding £26,000,000, a portion without interest charges, thereby permitting British Columbia to pay both principal and interest with payments totalling $1,124,675 annually.

Previously, interest alone cost the province $.,020,000.

There had been no suggestion from Ottawa that New Brunswick or its municipalities should be relieved of any obligations assumed by them to finance direct relief, Mr. McNair said.

British Columbia's agreement would mean also that its capita allowance would be increased proportionate to any New Brunswick increase which might develop should gross national production go up. In other words, as the gross national production grew the gap between British Columbia's $21 per capita allowance and New Brunswick's $15 would widen.

"This," said Premier McNair, "is downright discrimination and therefore entirely unacceptable to the province of New Brunswick."

Premier Manning said Monday he had no comment to make on statements by New Brunswick's premier rejecting federal tax transfer offers. Alberta declined to accept the federal government's offer last month, but new negotiations are expected before the present tax transfer agreement terminates in March.

Monday, the premier said no steps had been taken "so far" to reopen negotiations.

CALGARY, (CP)—In view of the concessions which have been given to British Columbia and Prince Edward Island, the other provinces which have come to a tax agreement with the dominion government have a valid case for asking that their agreements be reviewed, Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan, said in Calgary Sunday. His own province is one of those which has come to an agreement with Ottawa.

He said the agreement British Columbia had obtained from the federal government more or less reopened the case for the rest of the provinces which had come to an agreement.

Fear Other Provinces May Object to Pacts

By John Bird

OTTAWA—Fact that New Brunswick is kicking over the traces of a supposedly firm tax agreement, charging discrimination in favor of B.C., is creating concern in Ottawa, though the dominion government has been aware of New Brunswick's general position since Dec. 17, according to high officials.

The New Brunswick action is seen here as doubly packed with dynamite because Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan is reported as declaring that concurring provinces have a right to ask for a review of their agreements because of the special treatment given to B.C. Obviously, there is a possibility that other provincial agreements may blow up in the government's face, with consequences impossible to forecast and which might even provoke a general election. Such an election, though, would hardly be sought by the government upon so tricky a ground.

Fights British Plan, Chandra Bose Quits

CALCUTTA, (Reuters) — Sarat Chandra Bose, Bengal congress leader and former member of the Indian interim government, Monday resigned membership in the Congress working committee, policy-making body of the predominantly Hindu Congress party.

He said he resigned in protest against the committee's recommendation that the All-India Congress committee accept Britain's statement Dec. 6 regarding the grouping of Indian provinces.

25 Hurt in U. S. As Train Derailed

CRIVITZ, Wis., (AP) — Twenty-five persons were injured Sunday, only one seriously, when six cars of a Milwaukee railroad's passenger train were derailed near here.

Six of the injured were taken to a nearby hospital. Officials there said that 19 others were treated for minor injuries at the scene and then allowed to proceed to their destinations by relief train or bus.

president recommended that:

Congress take early action to continue throughout the next fiscal year the war excise tax rates, which under the present law, expire next June 30.

Congress co-operate in a program of "stringent economy" which he said he practiced in preparing the new fiscal budget.

The senate ratify peace treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary after they are signed next month in Paris.

On this point, he said further dispute and delay on the treaties would gravely jeopardize political stability in the countries concerned for many years. He added that the government did not regard parts as "completely satisfactory."

The policies which the United States pursued in negotiations on these treaties, Mr. Truman said, made it clear it would not consent to settlement "at the expense of principles we regard as vital to a just and enduring peace."

"Our policies will be the same during the forthcoming negotiations next month in Moscow on the German and Austrian treaties and during future conferences on the Japanese treaty," he said.

Turning to atomic energy, the president reiterated that the United States will seek "no monopoly for ourselves or for any group of nations," but only safeguards insuring no nation "will be able to use this power for military purposes."

Mr. Truman placed upon congress "responsibility for maintaining our armed forces at the strength necessary for our national safety" and renewed his plea for a universal training program. He also called for a merger of the armed forces.

On the economic front, Mr. Truman outlined five major policies calling for:

(A) Promotion "of greater harmony" between management and labor;

(B) Restriction of monopoly and unfair business practices, assistance to small business and promotion of private enterprise;

(C) Continuation "of an aggressive program of home construction;"

(D) A balanced budget during the next fiscal year with a substantial surplus and

(E) Assurance of "a fair level of return to farmers in postwar agriculture."

British Cabinet Tells Unions Higher Wages Not Justified

By Basil Dean

LONDON. — The Labor government is all set to warn British trade unions that further wage increases will mean still greater price rises and that wage boosts must be related to bigger production.

On Wednesday cabinet spokesmen will meet with a body called the national joint advisory council, on which the big employers organizations and the Trades Union congress are both represented. The Labor government's attitude to wage levels, prices and output will be firmly stated for the first time since the general election — and indications are that the unions are not going to like it.

At the last meeting of the advisory council in October, the government was urged to set forth all the facts on the country's economic position. These have been assembled in a white paper to be presented to delegates on Wednesday.

"Real" Wages Higher

In it, it is reported, the government's economic experts have set out to prove that real wages have materially increased since 1939, that no further widespread increases are possible without price rises which would more than offset them (and so reduce the real value of all wages) and that a heavy increase in production is essential if Britain is to regain even the moderate prosperity she enjoyed immediately before the war.

The statement says furthur that the target of 75 percent greater exports than in 1938 cannot be reached at the present rate of output per man-hour without switching half a million workers from production for the home market.

Since this target export figure is essential to pay for the country's minimum of vital imports, the government warns workers greater efforts are essential if the flow of goods into British stores is not to be drastically cut below its present bare-subsistence level.

Hits Unions' Program

All this is likely to make unpleasant reading for the Trades Union congress, which is committed to the 40-hour week "in the near future" and higher wage levels all round.

Before it agrees to the virtual "freezing" of wages at present probably will demand that executive salaries, dividends and profits be also compared with pre-war levels, and possibly that some other system of estimating living costs be adopted.

Whatever the results of this impending argument, the main fact is that the government is belatedly tackling the problem of wages and prices, and some workable policy may result.

Begin Salvaging Big Cargo Liner

BIRKENHEAD, Cheshire, Eng., (CP) — Salvage crews began work Sunday on the $4,000,000 cargo liner Corinthic after firemen and dockworkers had won a 24-hour battle against a fire that broke out in the hold of Britain's newest steamship Saturday, threatening to capsize her.

The fire broke out at 5:00 a.m. Saturday and scores of dockworkers and firemen fought all through Saturday night to extinguish the flames confined to the No. 5 hold of the 15,000-ton vessel.

No estimates of the damage were available but it was stated repair work on the largest freighter ever built on the Merseyside will take three days. The blaze was believed to have been caused by a short circuit.

Suffering China Calls to Canadian Farmers

WAR has spread wreckage and suffering among the 500,000,000 people of Canada's Pacific neighbor—China.

Blasted from farms and villages, millions of Chinese families are homeless, hungry and in rags, dying daily from starvation and disease.

China was first to feel the Fascist onslaught. For eight terrible years—from July, 1937 to August, 1945—China heroically breasted the aggressor's hordes. Two years longer than any of her allies!

Farmers Call to Farmers

To-day, China presents a heartrending spectacle to Canadians mercifully spared the ravages of enemy guns and bombs. And especially to Canadian farmers!

About 83 per cent. of China's 500,000,000 people are peasant farmers. To the scourge of Japanese planes and artillery have been added, in many districts, flood or drought, and shortage of seed grain. Besides the need for food, clothing, medical supplies, hospital equipment, there is urgent need for reconstruction of farms and homes.

Canada's Aid Essential

During the war, Canadians, through The Chinese War Relief Fund, sent to China some $2,654,000 in money and over 1,464,000 pounds of used clothing, valued at some $2,929,000.

But the aftermath of war can be more terrible than war itself. The world-wide relief work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency (UNRRA) ends March 1st in China. The burden will fall on voluntary agencies. So Canadian Aid to China (formerly The Chinese War Relief Fund) is assuming Canada's share, and is making a national appeal. This is an urgent call to Canadian farmers to support this effort.

How YOU Can Help

To make it more convenient for YOU to participate, all Elevator companies have been authorized to receive donations of part of grain deliveries as Aid to China.

When you deliver grain to your Elevator, simply tell the Elevator Agent how many bushels you wish to donate to Canadian Aid to China.

The aim is one per cent. of the storage capacity of each Elevator. Will YOU help to make this possible?

Enlightened Self-Interest

This appeal is to our common humanity as citizens of the One World from which to-day we dare not isolate ourselves. In helping to rehabilitate the Chinese, we are hastening a return to world health and progress.

But we may well remember that China is not only a World Neighbor of Canada, but a good potential customer for our products. In helping her to recover from her war wounds, we are building goodwill and laying the basis of profitable relations in the days to come.

WHAT TO DO

When you deliver grain to your Elevator, simply tell the Elevator Agent how many bushels you wish to donate to CANADIAN AID TO CHINA. Your Agent will make out a ticket in the name of CANADIAN AID TO CHINA for your donation.

Official Receipts will be forwarded to you from your Provincial Headquarters for income tax purposes.

No cheque to write, no cash to pay, no mailing to do. It's as simple as that!

Canadian farmers,* be generous! . . . China, a good neighbor, needs your help

This is the only national appeal to be made in Canada during the next twelve months for Chinese relief.

Criticize Railways' Attitude As Initial Rate Hearing Ends

OTTAWA, (CP)—A charge that the Canadian railways are "giving the brush-off" to the provinces in the railways' freight rate increase application was voiced by Col. J. L. Ralston, counsel for the Maritimes, before the board of transport commissioners Saturday.

The former federal cabinet minister was joined by spokesmen for the prairie provinces and British Columbia in criticizng the attitude of the C.N.R. and C.P.R. toward a request from the provinces for more particulars on their application for a general 30 percent rate boost in advance of hearings due to start Feb. 11.

At the same time, railway representatives disclaimed any intention of withholding evidence relevant to the hearing. They said some of the requested data was unavailable; some was on the public record and more would be brought out by witnesses at the hearing.

Reserve Decision

After two days of argument on the issue of advance information, the board reserved decision until an indefinite date. Chief Commissioner J. A. Cross said the decision would be handed down "as speedily as possible."

During Saturday's hearing, the C.N.R. rejected the claim of some of the provinces—chiefly the Maritimes and British Columbia—that the present inquiry should develop into a general investigation of Canada's whole rate structure.

A. K. Dysart, assistant general solicitor for the government line, joined the C.P.R. in declaring that the present was not the time for a general inquiry, though the railway would not object to regional claims being put forward after disposition of this case.

He described the current case as a "purely financial" one.

Col. Ralston said the railways had advanced "quite insufficient grounds" for not providing advance particulars.

Attempt to Stampede

"Their attitude seems simply an attempt to stampede us into an inquiry without sufficient preparation . . . They are just giving us the brush-off," he declared.

Col. Ralston struck out at the railways' claims of financial extremity as a ground for hastening the inquiry.

Most of the C.P.R.'s additional revenue calculated under 30 percent rate increases in 1947—$37,000,000 in all—was to go for dividends and income tax, he said.

"That's the financial extremity of the C.P.R.," he added.

"As for the C.N.R. no one can talk of financial extremity now, having regard to the condition it was in for years and years."

To Carry Burden?

What the provinces wanted to know particularly, he said, was whether freight was to be the "load horse" carrying the bulk of the railways' burden, whether there should be increases in other branches, or whether additional revenue should be a public charge.

The railways had said they could not segregate freight expenses from passenger charges, but Col. Ralston declared this form of separation was being done in diversified industries.

C. H. Locke, British Columbia counsel, interjected that the railways had been able to furnish this information at rate hearings in 1911 and 1920.

F. C. S. Evans, C.P.R. counsel, reiterated the railways' contention that, while such charges could be broken down through a formula, they would not be accurate.

"It would take months, all to no purpose."

Speaks for Alberta

L. A. Forsyth, acting for the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, declared the railways were saying they could not tell whether they were losing money on passengers or freight and were merely telling the public: "We need so much money, and the people who pay freight have got to provide it."

The three provinces he represented, he said, felt they were carrying a very heavy burden in freight rates, and already were "overloaded." They felt they were entitled to know how much they were expected to pay of the $85,000,000 in additional revenue the two roads expect to get from the increase.

"If they are carrying too heavy a load," Mr. Forsyth declared, "they wish to be able to show it so that the board can find some way to get the money without further burdening an already overburdened people."

"We are not trying to beat the railroads out of anything," he added, "but the governments I represent want a thorough investigation."

Form Association Control Brokers

TORONTO, (CP)— A meeting of more than 150 mining brokers and stock salesmen called Saturday by C. P. McTague, provincial securities commissioner, decided to form an organization to be known as the Security Dealers' Association of Ontario.

Purpose of the new organization is the regulation of brokers, dealers, promoters and underwriters trading in unlisted or over-the-counter stocks.

With one dissenting vote, the meeting approved a draft bill incorporating the association. If enacted by the provincial legislature as drafted, a bill will empower the association's board of governors to investigate the financial affairs of any unlisted stock firm, syndicate or salesman.

English War Bride Held for Burglary

NEW YORK, (AP)—An attractive English war bride who told police she liked "to wear fine clothes and to live well" was arrested Saturday night in her hotel room where police said they recovered $25,000 worth of furs, jewels and clothing she is accused of having pilfered from hotel rooms.

Police said she identified herself as Mrs. Betty Margaret Pitt, 23, the former wife of an American air force officer she met in England.

She was held on charges of burglary, grand larceny and possession of burglar tools.

Air Crashes Take Toll of 59 Lives

By Canadian Press

Plane crashes in three countries took a toll of 59 lives during the week-end on the basis of unofficial and official reports.

The greatest number of fatalities were caused when a Chinese airliner crashed near Tsingtao Sunday. Unconfirmed reports said 43 persons — all those aboard the plane — were killed.

A seaplane of Panair Do Brasil line crashed Saturday into a branch of the Amazon river in northern Brazil and 11 passengers and crew members were killed, said reports reaching Rio de Janeiro.

Five persons were reported killed and 21 injured in three plane crashes Sunday night in the eastern United States.

Snow, sleet and rain which hit a wide area extending as far as 250 miles around New York City were blamed for the U. S. crashes.

A Nationwide Transport Service, Inc., plane, crashed in a densely wooded section of Carmel, near Vineland, N. J., during a heavy snowstorm, killing three and injuring 19 others.

Later an American Airlines plane, prevented from landing at New York's La Guardia field by a heavy snowstorm, crash landed on a Long Island beach but only two of the 16 persons aboard — the pilot and copilot — were injured.

In Scott County, Va., about 25 miles west of Gate City, two persons were killed as their plane crashed on a flight from Mt. Pleasant, Mich., to Flordia.

Twenty passengers and three crew members were reported aboard Nationwide Air Transport ship. State police reported 21 were injured and three died later. One of those in hospital with injuries was Boxer Willie Pep. His condition was described as "good."

A spokesman for American Airlines said its plane, with fuel supply running low and unable to find a landing place between Washington, D. C., and New England, settled on the beach — with its wheels up.

Living Costs Keep On Steady Keel

OTTAWA, (CP) — The Canadian cost-of-living index is maintaining a steady keel.

The dominion bureau of statistics reported Sunday that on the basis 1935-1939 equals 100 the index on Dec. 2 was 127.1, unchanged from November. However, it was seven points higher than for a similar period last year and 26.1 percent higher than in August 1939.

There was a fractional decrease in the food index, from 146.6 in November to 146.4 in December. Lower prices for eggs and some vegetables were chiefly responsible, but small increases in several other groups balanced the loss in foods.

Fuel and light advanced from 108.6 in November to 109.2 with scattered increases in western coal prices. Clothing advanced from 131.1 to 131.2 and home furnishing and services rose from 129.2 to 129.4. The miscellaneous group was unchanged at 114.1 and rentals were steady at 113.4.

The composite index of farm product wholesale prices rose .2 of a point to 113.5 between the weeks of Nov. 29 and Dec. 27. Over the last year it advanced 3.7 percent. December changes among groups were small.

The composite level for 30 industrial material prices rose .5 of a point to 106.3 between Nov. 29 and Dec. 27 supported mainly by higher quotations for food materials. The index for this group registered a gain of 1.6 points to 106.5, due to further strength in hogs and steers.

The manufacturing materials series index, at 91.1 as the month closed, recorded a net gain of .3.

Probe East 'Ring' In Stolen Autos

HAMILTON, (CP) — Police forces in Ontario and Quebec were on the alert Monday for tips that would lead them to hideouts used by an alleged black market ring for stripping automobiles stolen in Ontario and sold, often as a collection of parts, in Quebec.

Police here said recently that they believed up to 170 cars had been stolen in this district and disposed of in Montreal. Demand for used parts had been so great that thieves found stripping stolen vehicles and selling parts more profitable and less risky than trying to get rid of a whole car.

The police drive to break up the ring took on new impetus with the discovery Friday at West Flamboro, roughly half-way between here and London, of what officers said they believed was one of the hideaways.

A swoop on the farm turned up a stolen Hamilton car and seven licence plates removed from stolen vehicles. Police arrested one man on the farm and later took two other men into custody here.

'Election' Attacks Continue in Poland

WARSAW, (AP)—Five men accused of engaging in underground terrorist activities near the Czech frontier were sentenced to death by a military court at Katowice Saturday as armed attacks against election commissions continued in Poland.

Newspapers reported that six more members of election boards were killed by underground bands, and that the total killed now had reached 40.

Citizenship

While tonight's ceremonies in Westglen high school auditorium bring to a close Edmonton's official celebration of Canadian Citizenship Week, the duties of no school teacher—or parent, or any other person in a position of influence are completely discharged in this regard while a single person in the community remains in ignorance of the full meaning of Canada's new Citizenship Act.

Every child in every school and in every home should be completely aware of what this act means and what it signifies. These things should be discussed freely and interestingly before children, since one of the purposes of the act is to inculcate a new pride in and a thorough knowledge of Canadian citizenship.

Those who are in frequent touch with foreign-born residents who have neglected the formalities of naturalization should lose no opportunity to impress on such people the desirability of becoming full-fledged Canadian citizens. They should be told plainly that under the facilities for naturalization now offered and in the newly awakened consciousness of citizenship, the good faith of those who fail to take the step may be readily suspect.

There is no reason why any properly qualified alien resident should not become a citizen of Canada. If any are not prepared to become citizens, they should not be here.

Canadian Citizenship Week will not end in reality until the function it purports to accomplish is fulfilled.

It's Common Place Now

Because there was bad weather over landing fields in the New York area, and also out to sea, thirteen trans-Atlantic planes had to stay over-night at the Gander, Newfoundland, airport. Four hundred passengers and crew-members filled the local hotel and vacant beds in the hospital.

The planes were headed in both directions, with full loads. The number of them measures the proportions to which cross-Atlantic air travel has grown. They were only one day's arrivals at the Gander port, landing place for westbound planes and jumping off place for those en route to Britain.

How long is it since Alcock and Brown did the impossible by flying across the Atlantic, winding up in an Irish bog and glad to get to land anywhere? Gauged by the expansion of air transport it might be a century. It is only a little more than 27 years. They had fought right to the end of World War I before they made the hop which showed the world that the airplane could jump oceans and link continents.

The adventure has gone out of trans-Atlantic flying. The newspapers no longer bother to announce what planes are arriving and departing; there are too many of them. How many people a plane will hold now determines how many get aboard, and passengers make their advance arrangements on the other side as confidently as though they were to cross by steamship.

Since one of our remote ancestors found that he could walk on two "legs" instead of all four, there has been no such astoundingly rapid adoption of a new method of transportation as this generation has shown by climbing into flying machines.

How Many Pigs?

Farmers, farm organization leaders, and officials of ten departments of agriculture are busy trying to figure out how many more pigs will be raised in Canada because of the new bacon agreement with Britain.

The town consumer is only casually and sympathetically interested. It means dearer pork to him, therefore even less of it on the table. And his interest in hog-meat is already at low ebb. It has gone down as the prices went up. As in wartime, he is content to let five pigs go oversea for one that stays at home.

The objective of the farmer is now the British market. The home demand is secondary. How many more hogs he will raise depends on how much the price to him will go up because of the new contract. This is what he and his organization leaders and the departmental officials are trying to work out.

The general prediction seems to be that a pig which is ready to become pork will be worth $5 more next September than one which is now in that unenviable position. It is to be hoped this extra margin will be large enough to stop the slump and induce a substantial increase in hog production.

This is to be hoped because Canadian agriculture will be more stable if production is varied; because there must be a limit to the price the British consumer can pay for bacon; and because if he has to raise the bid again he may resent it—and that would not help to hold his trade for the Canadian product when Danish and other supplies start pouring into his market again.

No Hardship Involved

Whoever has supposed that wheat is being used in Canada to make whiskey has been mistaken. Some must have thought so, since Hon. James A. MacKinnon found it necessary to correct the notion. Wheat, he said, is too scarce and too valuable for use in distilleries.

This assurance will be gratifying, even to consumers of liquor who prefer the kind made from wheat. On the continent of Europe people are getting only half as many calories per day as they should have, with no prospect of getting more until crops ripen again, and a grave possibility that they may get less.

While wheat is so desperately needed for food there could be no justification for converting it into a beverage simply in order that Canadians might have a wider range of choice. There are plenty of other kinds.

What Alberta Escaped

Things being as they are, it is only moderately interesting now to learn that the directors of Japan's military expansion policy carried their plans to the length of putting down in writing the detailed pattern they intended to adopt for administering this section of the continent of North America.

Documents unearthed at Tokyo show the intention was to set up a "general government" in Alaska, which should have jurisdiction over that area, the Yukon, the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, and the state of Washington.

The plain meaning of this is that Tojo and his predecessors and associates expected to conquer this continent. On no lesser suppostion could they base a plan under which to control and govern this vast north-western territory. However ambitious that undertaking may look in retrospect, the war-plotters really believed they could and would do it.

When Kamimura talked about dictating peace in Washington he was not simply expressing an inflated personal hope. He was speaking by the book. An official book, of ready-made plans to smash the military power of the United States and Canada and to chop up these countries to suit the conquerors.

It is easy to smile at the conceit which could envision such a scheme and put it down in black and white as a program to be carried out. But it would not have been so easy in the winter of 1941-42 and the dread-filled months which followed.

A Japanese attack on this continent was then as much to be expected as the sweep through the southern Pacific. That Alaska would be the landing place for a drive through the Canadian provinces into the United States was quite as conceivable as that Japanese armies should force their way to the borders of India. And who can say that in the circumstances of the time this was not possible?

The disclosure at Tokyo should be more than casually interesting to those savants who said the Jap leaders had no such thought in mind as carrying the war into our continent, belittled the building of defences along Canada's Pacific coast, and thought the construction of Alaska highway a waste of time, money and energy.

The documents show that Tojo's map-makers had marked this continent for conquest. What they did elsewhere is proof enough that they would have put their plans into action but for the speed with which defences were set up in the path they meant to follow.

Iran Again

The Security Council is to send a corps of investigators on a fact-finding mission to the Balkans. It might as well broaden their field of operation and have them look into the situation in Iran. Trouble is simmering there also, which might as easily boil over and cause a serious international dispute.

The Iran Government has resorted to force in order to restore the national authority in the rebellious province of Azerbaijan. This was a domestic broil, in which outsiders had no occasion to interfere.

But the Moscow radio reports that the victorious federal forces have got out of hand, or been turned loose in a vengeance "purge", have massacred civilians wholesale in Tabriz, and have attacked Soviet institutions and Soviet citizens there.

The latter allegation is loaded with explosive possibilities. Months ago Russia used strong-arm methods to compel the Iranian authorities to hand over oil and other concessions in the Azerbaijan area. If Iran's army is taking revenge by murdering Soviet nationals and attacking legitimate Soviet institutions, it is inviting Russian intervention, in the shape of invasion.

That is a kind of situation the Security Council will have to deal with if it is to "determine (and dispel) any threat to the peace". If it does not act now in the case of Iran—as well as in the case of the Balkans—the Council will have less solid ground on which to take action when other threats arise elsewhere.

Watch for "Susie Q"

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

There were two items in the news the other day which will stir the cords of many would-be inventor's heart.

Both come from the north—one from a homestead in northern Canada, another from a scientific laboratory in Soviet Russia. Both suggest that the age-old dream of man may be about to come true—that man may be about to master the art of flying through the air with only human muscle power to flap the wings.

PHILPOTT

Perhaps we should say "woman" and not "man." For it is a little lady who lives in northern Canada who claims that she can fly. She calls her contraption the "Susie Q." It has wings that move and a tail that steers.

* * *

THEY INTERVIEWED that mother the other day on the Canadian radio network. Somebody in Texas has given her a bid to go there and put on her first public demonstration. But she is not fussy about getting her name in print. We can be sure that the folks who live near the inventor of "Susie Q" are splitting their sides laughing. People laughed themselves sick at the Wright brothers, even when their first flying machine was skimming along crazily in the air just above the solid earth. The cynics had got so used to saying "It can't be done" that they kept right on saying it after it was being done before their eyes.

* * *

THERE IS NOTHING freakish or fanciful about the scientific report from the Soviet. Two or three noted aeronautical experts sign it. It is too ponderous for laymen. But what it all comes down to is that there is no physical reason why man cannot fly under his own steam—so to speak.

Since the dim dawn of history human beings have dreamed of flying like birds.

The ancient Greeks had a legend about what happened to a certain Icarus when he did so.

Solomon confessed that "the way of an eagle in the air" was "too wonderful" for him.

Leonardo da Vinci wrote about it. So did Bacon So did an Italian, Borelli, who in 1680 concluded that human muscles were not strong enough to supply enough wing power to enable man to fly.

Probably the little lady who invented "Susie Q" never heard of Borelli. Or maybe she had also heard of the picture of a bee which Henry Kaiser used to keep over his desk in wartime. Words underneath it ran something like this:

"The bumblebee can't fly! According to the laws of aerodynamics the bumblebee's load is too heavy to lift—but the bee doesn't know anything about aerodynamics — so flies away anyway!"

* * *

ONE OF THE wisest remarks about world conditions came to my desk from a workman who wrote:

"We know too much of what ain't so."

Kaiser's real point, of course, was that the "laws" of aerodynamics — which proved that the bee could not possibly fly—were incorrectly calculated or stated.

* * *

IN A SENSE the fellow who invented the bicycle did a far harder thing than the lady would do if she actually did invent a "Susie Q" set of wings which would carry her through the air for all the world to see.

Who hasn't lain on the sands of the beach looking up at the majestic sea-gull in flight; or in crowded cities hasn't marvelled at the aerobatics of the night-hawk that can dive at amazing speed—then seem to stop dead in the air?

Who is to say—in 1947—it "cant be done"?

* * *

OF COURSE what the young mother in Northern Ontario and what the Soviet aviators are trying to do is not mere gliding. Gliding—that is, riding through the air with fixed wings, but without a motor-driven propeller is quite different. In gliding—as in kite flying—it's the wind that supplies the lifting power.

The "Susie Q" is supposed to be a set of wings into which a human being can fasten himself—and with which he or she can fly away under human muscle power.

If the little lady proves it, she will rank as one of the greatest inventors of all ages. Meanwhile I take off my hat to her for refusing not to try because generation after generation said "it can't be done."

Coal Mines Change Hands

BY FRANK B. WALKER

LONDON: With the beginning of 1947 Britain's greatest industry passed into public ownership. With the taking over of the coal mines, the experiment of nationalization has officially begun.

For Britain's 693,000 miners it is the culmination of 50 years of political struggle in an industry torn by industrial strife and weakened by unemployment and depression. Now Britain hopes it will be different. It must, be.

Excluding abnormal holiday conditions the new order has had an auspicious beginining. W. Lawther, president of the board, has declared:

"There can be no justificatiion, whatever, for any single stoppage in the British coal fields."

* * *

PRODUCTION HAS risen to 4,000,000 tons, compared with an average of 3,250,000 tons per week in January last .The intake of new miners has increased by 45 percent. In 1945 less tha 49,000 recruiits joined the industry; this year nearly 80,000 have entered.

In January 1946 the total number of men employed in the mines was 696,000, but effective employment was only 621,000. Today while the total is only 693,000, effective employment has risen to 638,000 In. January the average weekly number of shifts worked by each miner was 4.71; today it is 5.09. In January absenteeism percentage was 18.93; today it has risen to 15.19.

At the beginning of the year the average output per manshift worked was only one ton; it now has climbed to 1.05.

There is still a long way to go but the decline has been halted. This year total production is expected to reach 181,500,000 tons. Last year it was only 174,658,000 tons, but in 1937 it was more than 240,000,000.

* * *

BUT IN THE FINAL analysis everything depends on the miners. To maintain full employment in Britain the coal board must succeed in increasing the numbers at the coalface boosting output and improving conditions. Much new housing is needed and the beginnings have been made in the mines' charter which will grant miners a five day week commencing next May.

January 1 also marked the end of the coal commission which has held coal on behalf of the nation since coal royalties were bought over and vested in the commission in July 1942. To this extent the mines have been publiicly operated for several years, but now the last vestige of private enterprise is to go and the owners are to be paid off with the global sum of $724,504,000. The new set up divides the coal industry into eight districts, one for Scotland, the second for Northern England, the third, fourth, fifth and sixth comprising the Midlands, the seventh in South Wales and the eighth in Southeastern England. A high proportion of the existing personnel has been retained and the board only possesses a skeleton organization. This no doubt will be extended in time.

* * *

IN HIS STATEMENT on the mines' charter Mr. Lawther declared "we have no doubt men in the coal fields will respond." "No miners in the world", he said, have brighter and better prospects than the British miners have today. Whatever wages and conditions may be in other countries in the world British miners now have negotiating and conciliating machinery second to none at every stage."

As R. B.'s Guest

Malcolm MacDonald in Empire Digest.

Lord Bennett first introduced me to Canada.

One day, more than 20 years ago, we happened to meet in London. Hearing that I was going to cross the Atlantic shortly afterwards on a strange mission with an Oxford University debating team, he asked whether I was going to visit Canada. I replied I hoped to get a brief glimpse of the Western parts of the country toward the end of the tour. He at once said, characteristically, that if I could start a few weeks earlier and travel through Eastern Canada he would be happy to make me his personal guest throughout that part of the journey.

I asked: "Do you mean you will pay all my hotel expenses?"

He replied that this was precisely his understanding of the proposal he was making! Being a good Scot, I accepted then and there.

A Long Sad Story

Halifax Chronicle.

The Prime Minister of Canada, replying to the Premier of Nova Scotia, on the matter of Dominion-Provincial tax proposals, has taken two columns of newsprint to say precisely "No", even to the far too modest demands made upon him by Mr. Macdonald. It is as amazing as it is exasperating that such a mass of involved verbiage should be necessary to tell the people of this province that they are to be treated in the future with precisely the same calculated indifference that has marked all the dealings of Ottawa with Nova Scotia in the past.

"Vox Populi, Vox Dei"

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

The cabinet's reversal of policy with regard to the German prisoners-of-war should serve as an object lesson to us all. It was an example of how democracy works. At first it was reported that 2,200 of the PW's—all those still in Canada at the time — were to be kept here to make up our shortages of workers in the bush and on the farms. Then it was reported through semi-official sources that only 200 specially selected PW's were to be kept here. Then finally came the official announcement that all were going home.

It is easy to see just what happened. The average citizen of Canada never gave a moment's thought to the possibility that these former enemies of ours would be kept here one moment longer than necessary. But there were a few persons, personally interested, who saw in these men a solution to their problem of obtaining laborers for their farms and their lumber camps. So they went to the government and requested that these men be permitted to stay in Canada.

Pressed by the people who wanted the Nazis to stay the cabinet were apparently influenced by the arguments put up to them. Then apparently they decided that they couldn't keep the PW's unless they were prepared to permit them to remain in Canada as long as they desired. Hence the decision to keep a selected few.

* * *

NOW SOME OF these PW's undoubtedly were very fine specimens—after their own fashion. Probably some of them had been of service to the Canadian government as stool-pigeons and informers. It was decided, at any event, that it would be in the best interest of all to permit 200 of them to remain and become Canadians. This decision was made public.

At this point the public who had never considered the possibility of such a thing happening awakened with a shock. From Legion branches, from various other organizations, from public figures and private citizens a whole rain of protest poured into Ottawa. It then became apparent that the cabinet had up to this point only heard one side of the story. And that was the small private side. When the whole picture appeared before them the cabinet suddenly realized they had stumbled into a hornet's nest and were preparing to act unwisely.

The result was that in view of the sudden and vehement opposition which developed it was decided that an about face was in order. So without any ceremony whatever it was announced that all the Germans were going back where they came from—where they belong. And gone they have!

* * *

THERE IS NOTHING amazing about this. Any cabinet if it wishes to stay in power must serve the wishes of the public to the best of its ability. The reason we don't get as speedy action as this in other things is because not enough of us take trouble to let the government know what we want.

I am almost sure that if every one of you who is unhappy about the housing situation would take up pen or pencil without delay and write to the Prime Minister or to Hon. C. D. Howe, or both, telling about your personal problem and what you think the government should do about it, that we would get a little speedier and more satisfactory action then we are getting now. Thinking this over won't help—but writing a letter to these gentlemen will!

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

AFU AND POLITICS

Editor, Bulletin.—This letter is not an answer to Mr. Bevington or his opponents. It is written to shed a little light on the subject they have under discussion.

Past members of the AFU executive have been laboring to direct an aggressive political machine for accomplishing what they call a non-political objective.

No organized action to obtain social change can be non-political.

Economics and politics are indivisible. Economics is the fuel by which political progress or regress is made.

In 1943 or thereabouts, when the AFU action program was drawn up, it was economically S. C., as was to be expected from the Social Credit influence on the board.

When the Social Credit influence was eliminated a year ago, then, again, naturally the political policy of the AFU became changed.

Mr. Young of Millet came over the air, speaking for the AFU advocating public ownership fundamental in CCF proposals and anathema to the defeated SC members of the board.

I would like to ask how Mr. Young can explain his dual position as a director of his political organization, the CCF, and his supposedly non-political organization, the AFU, at the same time.

No conscientious student of political economy can uphold both the democratic system of electoral representation and the totalitarian system of direct action to obtain a desired result.

The policy of the CCF is to elect a fully representative government that will legislate for the social requirements of all the people as closely as the average equitable requirement can be worked out. If their decision fails to satisfy a majority there is a democratic opportunity at regular intervals to adjust public dissatisfaction.

Work Time Lost Declines Sharply

OTTAWA, (CP)—November was a banner month in Canadian labor relations.

During the period less time was lost by industrial workers through strike activity than during any of the preceding eight months, Labor Minister Mitchell said in a monthly statement on strikes and lockouts.

Loss of time totalled 3,890 man-days, a reduction of more than 259,000 days over October. The reduction was due to the termination during October of most of the major industrial walkouts, including steel, rubber, brass, electrical apparatus and chemical industries.

During November there were 18 strikes in effect for varying periods, involving 8,166 workers, compared with 27 strikes in October, involving 32,919 workers.

Preliminary figures for the first 11 months of 1946 show 200 strikes and lockouts, involving 135,538 workers, with a time loss of 4,496,620 man-work days. For the same period in 1945 there were 190 strikes with 93,414 workers involved, and a time loss of 1,195,801 days. The peak time loss for any month during 1946 was in June, when 935,188 days were lost by 70,688 workers.

Power Lack Closes Australian Plants

VIENNA, (AP) — The cabinet decided Saturday to keep Australian industries closed down for two more weeks because of the power shortage. The government previously had ordered industries closed for a two-week holiday period.

HAMBURG, Germany, (AP)—A Hamburg coal crisis caused by a premature freeze of German waterways caused the British military government Saturday to order a halt to all industry and a blackout of half the city.

3 Outfits Plan To Visit Nahanni

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Northern Canada's mist-shrouded "Deadman's valley," where few White men have entered and Indian tales say 13 have died mysterious deaths, may give up its secrets this year.

Two Canadian expeditions and one from the United States have plans for exploring the remote area, through which winds the uncharted South Nahanni river in Canada's North West Territories.

The valley lies 200 miles southeast of Whitehorse, Y.T. Much of the territory remains to be explored.

One of the Canadian parties will forge into the northern wilderness in quest of gold, while the other two expeditions have announced they are determined only to solve the mysteries of the legendary valley.

There, the Indians say, is the solution to the disappearance or death of 13 trappers, traders and prospectors in the past eight years.

Tom Carolan of New Westminster, B.C. announced Saturday plans for an expedition of up to 12 men, to enter the valley in April.

"We do not seek gold," said Carolan, "but the secret of the valley itself."

The other two key men in the Carolan party are Alan MacMillian, Ontario north woods guide and R.C.A.F. veteran, and Frank Prowd, who served with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Carolan said that the party hoped to leave Watson, Y.T., in March, using pack animals for the trip. He said he hoped that the British Columbia party would reach the valley ahead of the American marines who plan to explore the region next June, using airplanes, parachutes and army "ducks."

H. Hendrickson, army veteran and minor of Zeballos, B.C. plans to recruit veterans with commando training "just in case the headless legend is true" and enter the valley in search of gold.

Montreal Police In 'Bookie' Raid

MONTREAL, (CP) — Police Attorney Pacifique Plante said Sunday night that a nerve centre of illegal racing information was smashed when morality police raided offices of a local wire service and a racing sheet publishing plant late Saturday.

The morality police, accompanied by Plante, broke into the third storey office where Plante said a telegraph operator was receiving racing results from American racetracks.

Hidden behind a false partition, 20 live telephones and a telephone amplifying set were seized by the police.

WOLVES KILL CARIBOU

THE PAS, Man., (CP)—Packs of black wolves have been attacking herds of caribou in northern Manitoba, killing many, it was reported Saturday by A. P. Pulchenski, a northern trapper.

OFF TO NIPAWIN—Two crack Alberta rinks skipped by Cliff Manahan and Dr. C. D. McBride, both of Edmonton, left Sunday night for Nipawin, Sask., where they will compete in the $12,000 bonspeil which drew a total entry of 103 rinks. The above pictures were taken at the Granite Curling Club immediately following yesterday afternoon's practice game which was won by the Manahan quartet before a large gallery by a score of 13-6. In the top panel (from the left) are Cliff Manahan of the Royal Club (skip), Billy Rose of Sedgewick (third), Bartley Swelin of Hughenden (second) and Lloyd McIntyre of Viking (lead). Manahan won the Macdonald Brier, Canada's top curling trophy in 1933 and again in 1937 McIntyre being with him in '37. Rose was the 1946 winner and Swelin threw third rocks for him. In the lower picture (also from the left) are Dr. C. D. McBride of Edmonton Club (skip), Cecil Runyon of Viking (third), Bob Wells of Hardisty (second) and Clem Loughlin of Viking (lead). Runyon was with John Slavik's Viking rink, Alberta's representatives in the 1942 Brier. "There are the best curlers in the world," said Dr. McBride nodding toward Manahan rink just as the camera bulb flashed. The Manahans outcurled the McBrides yesterday after the first end on which McBride counted two. Manahan took the next four in succession to lead 6-2, before his opponent found the chalk for a three. The next four ends also went to Manahan, with McBride collecting a singleton on the 11th. Manahan added one on the 12th to leave the final reading 13-6. The Albertans are due to play their first games in Nipawin on Tuesday.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By Steve Robertson

TORONTO, Jan. 4—(CP)—Make way for Johnny Metras, coach of the undefeated University of Western Ontario Mustangs in the Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union, for a word or two on Canadian football rules.

The man who ranks as one of the Dominion's best coaches speaks his mind particularly on the proposal from some quarters that backs be given the full freedom of the 10-yard interference zone allowed for linemen last fall. They are presently limited to making interference within one yard of the line of scrimmage.

"WHAT DO THEY want more interference for?" says Metras as reported by Beejay in the London Free Press. "Most blocks are thrown within the first five or seven yards anyway—why sure, at least 90 per cent of them are.

"With the backs in motion what more do they want, automatic self-starters?" continued Metras, himself an original product of the United States game where interference is unlimited but backs may not be in motion when the ball is snapped.

THE THING to do is to digest the present rules before asking for more, he said, concluding: "The Canadian game is a pretty good game as it is. Better think twice before they begin to spoil it." He'd even be happy with the old five-yard interference zone for linemen.

MEMORIES: Few sports writers have had as long and as active a connection with hockey as Michael J. (Kingston Whig-Standard) Rodden. The white-thatched veteran recently wrote of that 1928 Stanley Cup series in which New York Rangers came up with a surprise conquest of Montreal Maroons after Lester Patrick took over the goal-tending job in the second game after the late Lorne Chabot was injured.

Rodden, who with the late Lou E. Marsh refereed the series, wrote that he "will always be convinced that the greatest five-man combination of all time"—Bill and Bun Cook, Frank Boucher, Ching Johnson and Taffy Abel—"turned the tide in favor of the New Yorkers." But he recognizes that "Patrick's entry into the battle, the unquestioned power of the Maroons and the fact that all the games were staged in the Montreal forum made Rangers' conquest top line news."

HE RECALLED, too, that the referees called back a goal by Russ Oatman of Maroons, charging Bill Philips with interference.

Wrote Rodden ":It need hardly be said that the fans exhibited great displeausre when the ruling was rendered and that a fine time was had by all before the referees escaped from the roaring mob."

Hubble Bubble Wins Rich Stakes

ARCADIA, Jan. 6 - (CP) - R. C. Ellsworth's Hubble Bubble moved ahead in the stretch Saturday to win the $50,000 seven-furlong Santa Susana stakes by four lengths over C. S. Howard's Mararetta before 47,600 at Santa Anita park. L. B. Mayer's Judy Rae was third. Winning time was 1:23 and four fifth's.

Hubble Bubble, an outsider in the wagering, paid 25.40 to win.

No Wager Odds

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 -(AP)- Because of what is termed the "insidious inroads" gambling has made on amateur athletics in recent years, the Los Angeles Times announced Sunday it will carry no wagering odds in its stories on amateur sports.

The policy declaration has special reference to college football, sports editor Paul Zimmerman indicated.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Ruth Reported In Serious Condition

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 -(AP)- Babe Ruth, baseball's famed sultan of swat, was reported in "serious condition" last night at French hospital and due to undergo a "serious neck operation" this morning "for the relief of intractable pain."

At 10:10 p.m. (CST) bulletin from the hospital read:

"Babe Ruth has been under treatment at French hospital for the last six weeks. After a series of consultations in which six specialists participated, it was determined that a serious operation will be performed tomorrow morning in the neck for the relief of intractable pain.

"The outlook is considered serious."

Indianapolis Sets Scoring Record

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6 -(CP)- Indianapolis Capitals smashed an American Hockey League scoring record for one team in a single game when they walloped the lowly Philadelphia Rockets 14-2 last night. The previous mark was the 13 goals scored by Pittsburgh against New Haven in 1942.

Cliff Simpson and Bob Wiest got three goals apiece for the winners while Hugh Millar and Gerry Couture had doubles. Les Douglas, Enio Sclisizzi, Thain Simon and Dan Summers got the others. Phil Hergesheimer and Wally Stefaniew counted for the Rockets.

Monarchs Trim Portage by 7-3

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Jan. 6 —(CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs overcame Portage La Prairie Terriers 7-3 in a Manitoba Junior Hockey Association contest here Saturday night and maintained their place at the head of the league. It was the winless Terriers' eighth straight loss.

Brandon Trounces 'Peg Canadians

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 6 - (CP) - Brandon Elks, fresh from two exhibition victories over the University of Minnesota Gophers, overwhelmed Winnipeg Canadians 15-2 in a Manitoba Junior A Hockey Association game here Saturday night and took over undisputed possession of second place from the idle Winnipeg Rangers.

Sees "New Era" In Women's Golf

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan 6 -(AP)- Betty Jameson, twice United States women's golf champion, forecasts a "new era" in women's golf.

Miss Jameson, who turned professional a couple of years ago after sweeping triumphantly through amateur ranks, says a flock of feminine simon pures will be turning professional in 1947.

The reason: There probably will be a dozen annual golf tournaments for women launched in the United States in 1947 with purses totaling about $40,000.

Jim Fleming Nets Winner for LA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 -(AP)- Centre Jimmy Fleming started the Los Angeles Ramblers' scoring and then pounded home the winning goal, too, to pace the Western International Hockey League leaders to a 4-3 victory Saturday night over the Kimberley, B.C., Dynamiters.

Fleming rapped in the opening goal unassisted. His clincher came in the last four minutes of the third period on a pass from defenceman Jack Lambrecht, after Kimberley's Sully Sullivan had knotted the count two minutes earlier.

Rich 'Spiel Draws Entry of 103 Rinks

NIPAWIN, Sask., Jan. 6 -(CP)- A new era in western Canada curling opened today in this north-eastern Saskatchewan town of 1,400 persons when 103 rinks representing curling clubs from as far east as Virginia, Minn., and as far west as Prince George, B.C., and Vancouver start play for the richest prizes ever offered in the history of the "roaring game" in Canada.

FIRST PRIZE is a 1947 automobile for each member of the winning rink and the total value of prize money is around the $12,000 mark.

As might be expected, it has drawn some of the most brilliant names in Canadian curling. No less than three former Canadian champions — Howard Wood of the Winnipeg Granite Club, Dominion Brier winner in 1930 and 1940, Leo Johnson of Winnipeg Strathconas, Canadian champion in 1934 and runner-up last winter, and Cliff Manahan of the Edmonton Royals, Dominion winner in 1933 and 1937—are entered.

SO ARE BILL DUNBAR of Kinley, Sask., twice Saskatchewan Consols champion and runner up to Wood for Canadian honors in 1940, and Johnny Rankin of Rosetown, Cliff McLachlan of Rosthern, Dalt Henderson of Saskatoon, Earl Kelly of Swift Current, all provincial champions or runners-up at one time or another, and Walter Polski of Virginia, regarded as among the top-flight curlers in the United States.

IN THE OPENING draw Johnny Franklin of Nipawin meets Alvin Turner of Codette, Sask. Other first-round matches later in the day pit Leo Johnson against Lindsay Gibbons of Neilburg, Howard Wood against G. E. Edwards of North Battleford, Walter Polski against Earl Kelly and Dalt Henderson against J. D. McFarlane of Flin Flon.

Cliff McLachlan, Cliff Manahan and Bill Dunbar drew byes.

Ornest's Injury Said Not Serious

FORTH WORTH, Tex., Jan. 6 -(AP)- Referee Harry Ornest of the United States Hockey League was scheduled to be released from hospital here Saturday after a speedy recovery from an injury sustained in a hockey game Thursday night.

Ornest was injured when struck from behind by a spectator.

An attending physician said an slight concussion had almost cleared and Ornest's injury was not serious.

Wetaskiwin Wins 6-2 Over New Method Club

WETASKIWIN, Jan. 6—Wetaskiwin Colonels took over undisputed possession of first place in the City Hockey League when they defeated Edmonton's New Method Club 6-2 before a big crowd here on Saturday night.

Kirstein and Kelley with two goals each, led the scoring for the home team, Jack Ingram and Hauck adding the other pair. Grant assisted in two. Louis Holmes and Stan Morgan counted for the visitors.

NEW METHOD took the lead in the first period on an early tally by Holmes, with Morgan and Stuart sharinng, but Kirstein combined with Grant midway in the stanza to put Wetaskwin on even terms.

Colonels then ran in three during the second. Ingram unassisted, Kelley from Bill Gauf, and Hauck from Bill Gostick, before Morgan replied for New Method.

Kelley from Grant and Kirstein on a solo were final periods goals.

Flyers Trounce Elks 9-1 After Slow Start

Edmonton Back On Even Terms With Calgarians

It took Edmonton's Flyers more than a period to get organized Saturday night, but once they found the range, goals came fast and Saskatoon Elks eventually received a 9-1 going over before an arena crowd which included 6,240 paying fans.

The victory, ninth in a row on home ice and 11th out of 12 starts here, lifted Flyers into a first-place tie with Calgary, after a 24-hour sojourn in second place resulting from Stampeders' win over Saskatoon the previous night. Flyers also have a game in hand.

APPARENTLY headed for a shutout, Ken McAuley was beaten by Mike Shabaga for the only Saskatoon tally midway in the third period. The Flyer goalie played brilliantly throughout the entire game and no better exhibition of net-minding had been witnessed in the arena this season.

Shabaga, ace Elk sniper, had been left uncovered in front of the Edmonton goal and he secured the puck immediately following Dede Klein's shot from left boards. Flyers maintained there should have been a whistle as the disc dropped back onto the ice close to Klein, after hitting a spectator on an attempted clearance.

ELKS WERE ALL over Flyers in the first period and outshot them 12 to 5. Edmonton was fortunate to finish that session one goal up, and Saskatoon would have been ahead at least three had it not been for McAuley's super net work.

Visitors had six shots at McAuley before Flyers had even one at Bill Brennan. Cy Thomas did hit a post after a smart play with Billy Maher, but otherwise the bulk of the early traffic was one-way.

ONLY PENALTY of the period and one of the two handed out during the game, was served by Maher, Flyers being penalized for having too many men on the ice. Edmonton had only two shots on the Saskatoon goal during the first 10 minutes compared to nine for Elks and Bob Solinger's hard drive at 13 minutes was the first really good Flyer shot.

Stan Devicq made it 1-0 for Flyers after 17 minutes when he banged a loose puck into a half-empty net with Brennan still gathering himself together after a collision with Thomas, whose shot he had just stopped. Maher also was in on this foray.

McAuley's best save of the night —and it was indeed a honey—was off Bill Dertell's stick immediately after the Flyer goal.

JOHNNY BLACK slapped in a rebound from Don Stanley's shot to make the count 2-0 early in the second as Flyers assumed control. Dutchak drew an assist.

When Maher whipped in a fast one at 11:53 in which Stanley and Watt both had a hand, it began to look as if Elks had had it. Two minutes later Stanley topped off a beautiful four-way thrust with Black, Dutchak and Solinger.

ALEX PRINGLE raised the count to 5-0 cutting in fast to slap in Kreller's rebound. Solinger got an assist on this one, but was overlooked on the next tally for he started the play which resulted in Black's goal from Dutchak in the last minute of the period.

Pringle back-handed one past Brennan to start off the final period after Kreller got a delayed pass through to him. The score was 7-0 when Shabaga bagged the lone Saskatoon marker.

Flyers were unable to do anything with Richardson off for a holding penalty.

BING MERLUK'S goal came at 17 minutes and Watt drew the only assist, although Kreller definitely was entitled to one. Pringle also was in on this deal.

Thomas scored following a lovely combination play with Maher at 19:38 and the same pair flashed the red light later on almost an identical play, but the officials ruled the final buzzer had sounder before the puck entered the net.

Flyers outshot Elks 16-6 in the second period and 14 to 11 in the final session.

SASKATOON—W. Brennan; H. Dutchak, Dertell; Hulme; Fenn, Klein. Subs: Richardson, Livingstone, Buttrey, Rouse, Shabaga, McIntyre, J. Brennan.

EDMONTON—McAuley; Young, Solinger; Kreller; Pringle, Merluk. Subs: Watt, Maher, Stanley, Black, Devicq, Thomas, W. Dutchak.

Officials—Referee, C. Smith; Linesmen, R. Haxby, J. Colville.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Edmonton, Devicq (Thomas, Maher), 17:00. Penalty —Maher.

Barbara Ann Scott Is Named Top Woman Athlete For Year

TORONTO, Jan. 6 (CP) — Pretty Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa is off to compete in the European and world figure skating championships with a new jewel sparkling in her crown of fame — her emphatic selection by Canadian sports writers as the best individual performer among the Dominion's women athletes in 1946.

THE 18-YEAR-OLD CANADIAN and North American figure skating champion received 45 of a possible 66 points in the poll conducted by The Canadian Press. Her nearest rival was Rhoda Wurtele of Montreal's famed skiing twins who had 11 points. Rhoda's twin sister, Rhona, tied for third place with swimmer Irene Strong of Vancouver with 10 points apiece.

Choice of the winsome Ottawa miss as Canadian sportswoman of the year follows the trend in two of the last three years the poll was conducted. In 1939 and 1941 Mary Rose Thacker of Winnipeg, former North American figure skating champion, was the choice of the sports writers. In 1940 they picked Mrs. W. R. (Dorothy) Walton of Toronto, then Dominion badminton champion. In 1942 the poll was discontinued for the duration.

THE GOLDEN-HAIRED MISS SCOTT began her skating career in 1937. She won her first major prize in 1940 — the Canadian junior title. In 1944 she became Canadian senior champion and has held the title ever since. Her absence in Europe this winter to compete in the European championships in Switzerland Feb. 1-2 and the world championships in Sweden Feb. 14-16 rule her out of the Canadian title meet in Toronto this month. But she will be back in time to defend her North American honors in New York this year.

Rangers Swamp Black Hawks 9-0

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—(CP)—New York Rangers moved within a point of third place in the National Hockey League standings here last night when they overwhelmed Chicago Black Hawks 9-0 before a Madison Square Garden crowd of 15,925.

It was the second worst beating a team has taken this season. Chicago having taken an 11-0 drubbing by Toronto Nov 30.

FOR THE RANGERS last night's feat was remarkable considering they have played seven games in nine days—the worst grind in National Hockey League history. After a spotty start in the heavy schedule the New Yorkers came back to shut out Toronto 2-0 Saturday night.

New York got the jump from the start against a sluggish Chicago team, scoring twice in the opening session and running their lead to 4-0 in the second. In the disastrous third period, goalie Paul Bibeault of the Hawks let in five New York goals.

RENE TRUDELL and Church Russell fired in the goals for the Rangers in the first while Joe Levandoski put the Rangers ahead 3-0 in the second. Joe Bell got the fourth Ranger counter.

In the third, Chicago penalties gave the Rangers their big chance when centre Cal Gardner, Joe Cooper and Edgar Laprade scored. Laprade got another and Gardner ended the scoring with his second goal at 16:43 while Chicago was at full strength.

LEAF FANS OBJECT TO REFEREE'S DECISION

TORONTO, Jan. 6 - (CP) - There was plenty of noise at Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday night but 13,347 fans directed most of it in derisive tones toward referee Bill Chadwick, chosen villain of the National Hockey League piece as the leading Toronto Maple Leafs bowed to the fourth-place New York Rangers 2-0.

The customers had no argument with the two clean goals scored by the Blueshirts and they did some yelling when their favorites came close, but Chadwick had to dodge varied objects when they protested that defenceman Garth Boesch drew an undeserved penalty in the second period.

Playing their sixth game in eight days, the tired Rangers improved as they went but it was goalie Chuck Rayner who stole the show and probably presented the finest individual performance here this winter.

Wings Hand Bruins Second Week-End Loss

DETROIT, Jan. 6—(AP)—Coming from behind with three goals in a wild third period marked by 30 minutes in penalties against Boston defenceman Pat Egan for roughing an official, Detroit Red Wings broke a home ice victory drought by whipping the Bruins 3-1 last nght for their first National Hockey League victory at home since Nov. 21.

A near-capacity crowd of $13,186 approved gleefully as Egan, once Detroit's own bad boy, was assessed a 10-minute misconduct penalty with an automatic $25 fine for pushing linesman Stan McCabe in the final 10 minutes of play.

WHILE REFEREE Bill Chadwick had his back turned reporting the penalty to ringside scoring officials, Egan went after McCabe again and Chadwick waved him off the ice with an additional 20 minute match misconduct penalty.

The 30 minutes in penalties on one play was a season high in the N. H. L. and the partisian Detroit crowd enjoyed it almost as much as seeing the Red Wings stage a sharp form reversal to come from behind in the third period and win their first game in their last seven starts on home ice.

IT WAS A PLEASING triumph for Detroit's manager Jack Adams for it was his 400th regular season N.H.L. victory in 20 years as coach and manager of the Red Wings.

Detroit struck in the opening minutes of the third period after Boston had taken a 1-0 edge in the second on Murray Henderson's 35-foot swat off Terry Reardon's rebound.

Pat Lundy deflected Fernand Gauthier's shot into the Boston net at 5:34 of the third stanza to tie the count and 23 seconds later Bill Quackenbush, Detroit defenceman, banged in a 10-footer for his first goal of the season.

THAT MADE IT 2-1 and then Jimmy Connacher came in to scoop up the puck eight feet in front of the net nine minutes later and pitch it into an open corner back of Frank Brimsek.

Detroit's first win over the Bruins in five meetings this season have failed to improve the Red Wings fifth place position as fourth place New York whipped Chicago.

CAMROSE SCORES EASY 13-3 VICTORY

CAMROSE, Jan 6 —A better than average crowd saw Camrose Maroons trounce Stettler Imperials by the wide margin of 13-3 in a Central Alberta Hockey League game here Saturday night.

Due to warmer weather during the day the ice wasn't as fast as the players would have liked and the game was rather draggy excepting for spurts. The Stettler aggregation was game enough but plays were not co-ordinated and Camrose had a walk-away.

WILBUR DELANEY, net-minder for Maroons made some splendid saves, but Pete Gregor was the star for the home club and received an ovation for consistent work.

Field Of Around 10 To Run In '47 Plate

TORONTO, Jan. 6—(CP)—Out at Old Woodbine race track where the swipes play valet amid winter's snow to a handful of thoroughbreds wintering there, the talk already is about the 1947 King's Plate and the guessng is for a field of about 10, perhaps less.

Currently data for the plate, to be run May 24 at 1⅛ mile stacks up much the same as in other years at this time. Fourty-four horses from 32 stables are eligible where last year 35 stables had 48 horses named for this oldest continuously-run race on the continent.

BUT THAT VERY figure — 44 — serves to point up the wastage in the prospects of horseflesh between time of foaling and three-year-old post-time. On Nov. 14, 1944, 110 Canadian-bred horses, dropped only that year and still a bit shaky on their feet were eligible after owners paid a nomination fee of $10.

One after another they dropped out as owners' hopes faded. One after another they will continue to drop out until the field is something Woodbine track can accommodate though as often as not the King's Plate trial, which pretty much determines what horses run in the Plate proper, has to be run in two sections.

TODAY, NO MATTER their birthdate, all the eligibles are three-year-olds since thoroughbreds advance a year on New Year's Day. And when first nominated, their owners had little to go on except bloodlines, conformations, — and hope.

Altogether, by post time, each entry will probably have cost its breeder $1,500 or so, excluding stud fee, in the course of gaining King's Plate calibre. After the nomination fee there is a $15 payment necessary during the first year to remain eligible, $25 the next and $100 to start for a first prize worth $10,000 and the king's 50 guineas.

Montreal Police Go After Bookies

MONTREAL, Jan. 6. -(CP)—Police attorney Pacifique Plante said last night that a nerve centre of illegal racing information was smashed when morality police raided offices of a local wire service and a racing sheet publishing plant late Saturday.

The morality police, accompanied by Plante, broke into the third storey office of Radio Engineering Service and the Montreal Sports Daily on uptown Ontario street, where Plante said a telegraph operator was busy receiving racing results from American racetracks.

HIDDEN BEHIND a false partition where police discovered them, 20 live telephones and a telephone amplifying set were seized by the police. Also found according to Plante, was a list of 48 local bookies' names.

Plante said any arrests in the case would be delayed several days until certain gambling cases now before the courts had been heard. He said his department was only interested in "getting the top men," and information gathered in these raids would be used against accused gamblers at present awaiting trial.

OBTAIN EVIDENCE BETTING ON HOCKEY

TORONTO, Jan 6 -(CP)—Police said evidence of bets amounting to $17,000 on National and American Hockey League games was obtained Saturday night when they arrested five operators and 56 "found ins" in simultaneous raids on six Toronto premises and houses in suburban Forest Hill village and York township.

Three police forces combined in the raids, largest anti-gambling operation in Toronto history. All arrests were made in two downtown clubs and in a west end apartment house.

Police said they found large blackboards on which Saturday's hockey games were listed at both the Omega Club on Yonge street and the Atlas Club, Spadina Avenue and ticker-tape machines on which latest results were received.

U. S. Mineral Total Breaks All Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bureau of mines said Saturday that the United States and Alaska broke all records in value of minerals and mineral products produced during 1946—$8,900,000,000 worth.

That total exceeds the 1945 production of $8,143,000,000 by nine percent and is six percent above the previous peak in 1944.

The record results largely from a general advance in prices of mineral commodities rather than from a production increase, although a heightened demand in an accelerating peacetime economy was an important factor.

Peak Auto Output Hit by Mid-summer?

DETROIT, (AP)—Steel shortages will continue to place the United States motor car industry through much of the first quarter of 1947. Nevertheless, the car makers begin the second post-war calendar year with a more hopeful outlook than in 1946.

Barring prolonged strikes in basic industries, the automobile industry may hit top-level output by summer.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, (AP) — Neither the bulls nor the bears made any particular response to President Truman's message in Monday's stock market.

Leading motors, steels, rails and pivotal industrials advanced fractions to [illegible] or more points in the forenoon on a short-lived buying flurry. Prices in most cases were still under the best. Transfers ran to around 1,000,000 shares.

In the Canadian group, McIntyre was up 1¼ at mid-day. Dome Mines gained ¾ and Hiram Walker ¼. Canadian Pacific and distillers Seagram each advanced ⅛.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, (CP) — Moderate gains were made Monday for Abitibi common and preferred, International, Price, Donnacona, Bathurst "A" and "B", Dryden and St. Lawrence Corporation. National Steel Car and Dosco "B" were up in industrials.

RECORD OIL OUTPUT

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The bureau of mines reports that production records were set for petroleum and natural gas among fuels during 1946. Among fertilizers, those for potash and phosphate rock also made records.

Woman Arrested For Alleged Theft

VANCOUVER (CP)— Police reported late Sunday night that $2,000 in stolen goods had been recovered and a 23-year-old woman, Connie Evelyn Johnson, had been arrested and charged with theft and retaining stolen property.

The woman was arrested when she stepped out of a cafe, wearing what was alleged to be a $1,500 fur coat stolen from Mrs. B. T. McDonald of Seattle.

On Dec. 23, Mrs. McDonald reported to police that the coat, a $500 bracelet and $500 in cash had been stolen from her by a woman she met in a downtown hotel.

Believe Ottawa To Bonus Barley

OTTAWA, (CP) — Informed quarters believe it likely that the government already has decided that it will be necessary to pay prairie farmers an acreage bonus on growing barley if a much-needed increase in the production of grains for the feeding of livestock is to be brought about.

The question of such a payment first was brought up at the dominion-provincial agricultural conference early in December when delegates, after hearing of the great need for grains, suggested prairie farmers be paid a bonus of $5 for every acre of land they seeded to barley.

Agricultural Minister Gardiner promised to place the suggestion before the federal cabinet and this step is believed to have been taken, with the government conceding that some such payment was necessary.

However, the question of how much the bonus should be is a matter calling for greater consideration and it is not thought this will be decided until after experts have compiled figures necessary to show just how much will be needed to turn the farmers from wheat to barley.

It is considered likely the payment will be somewhere between $4 and $5 an acre, possibly closer to $5 than $4. Anything below $4 is not considered sufficient to provide the necessary incentive.

The ultimate aim behind the drive for more barley is the stimulation of hog production, which has been falling steadily since 1944.

Woman, 72, Held In Handsaw Killing

NEWARK, O., (AP) — Laura Bell Devlin, 72, who collects old lace, was held without charge Monday in the handsaw slaying of her husband, whose dismembered body was found in the back yard of their home here.

Police said the mild-mannered little woman told them she cut up 75-year-old Thomas Devlin last week in the parlor of their modest two-storey house.

"He tried to kill me so many times I decided to end his life," Mrs Devlin was quoted as saying calmly.

"And now can I go home?" she asked police after describing how she first pounded Devlin into unconsciousness with her fists and tried to break his bones with a sickle. She then used the saw to dismember the body, police quoted her as saying.

Burned parts of the body also were found in a stove.

Told she must remain in jail, Mrs. Devlin shook her head but made no protest.

Clad in a stocking cap and an old coat, Mrs. Devlin went to police headquarters Sunday with a letter reporting her husband had died in Philadelphia. Signed "Tom's cousin," the letter said: "We are going to Ireland" to bury him. The envelope bore no stamp and had a postmark drawn in black ink.

Officers went to the Devlin residence to investigate. There they found parts of a body and piles of human ashes.

Confronted by the findings, Mrs. Devlin readily admitted the slaying.

Minister Deplores Jap Deportations

CALGARY, (CP)—Canadian citizenship cannot carry its true significance as long as Japanese Canadians can be deported and Jehovah's Witnesses persecuted, Rev. Allen R. Huband told his congregation at Knox United church Sunday.

"What is the use of talking of Canadian citizenship when power is placed in the hands of the government to take away this thing we regard so precious?" Mr. Huband asked. "Japanese can be deported, not because of offences they have committed, but because they belong to a race with which we were at war.

"If they can be deported arbitrarily and against their wishes, then the Canadian Citizenship act is not worth the paper on which it is written," he asserted.

Stressing the importance of individual rights, he cited as "a classic example of the dangers of these rights," the persecution of the sect of Jehovah's Witnesses in Quebec.

Charge Manipulation N. Y. Butter Prices

NEW YORK, (AP) — A criminal information charging the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., its president, Henry H. Rathbun, and three members of the executive committee with manipulation of the price of butter on the New York mercantile exchange was filed in federal court Saturday.

The criminal information, similar to an indictment, stemmed from the drop of 10 cents a pound in the wholesale butter price Dec. 26.

The information charged manipulation during five days last month.

Russia Will Build Record Skyscraper

LONDON, (Reuters)—Russia is to resume construction on the Palace of Soviets, listed as the world's tallest building with a height of 1,365 feet, which was interrupted during the war, Moscow radio said Sunday.

The palace, to be 120 feet higher than New York's Empire State building, was begun several years ago near the Kremlin. It is designed to house the Russian parliament (the supreme Soviet), besides serving for congresses and meetings.

Two Persons Receive Injuries

10 Accidents, 18 Week-End Arrests

Ten traffic accidents on city streets caused injury to two persons during the week-end. Eighteen arrests, mostly on liquor charges helped make up the balance of the work for city policemen.

THOSE INJURED in traffic accidents were: Mrs. Margaret Parker, Waskatenau, who suffered chest injuries, and Patrick Herald, 10595 101 street, who suffered a gash on the back of the head requiring seven stitches. He also received minor injuries to both legs.

Mrs. Parker was a passenger in an automobile driven by her husband, William Wilder Parker, when it collided wth an oil truck at the intersection of 97 street and 118 avenue at 10:15 p.m. Saturday. The truck was driven by Stanley Parker, 7338 82 avenue.

Mrs. Parker was thrown forward by the impact and injured herself against the interior of her husband's automobile. She was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital.

HERALD WAS knocked down by a car operated by Thomas Cranston, 12022 62 street, at 101 street and 106 avenue at 10 p.m. Saturday. Cranston said he was driving north on 101 street and when just past 106 avenue he noticed the man crossing the street about 30 feet in front of him. He applied the brakes but the vehicle skidded on the icy street and struck the man.

Herald was lifted from the roadway with the help of William Holman, 10729 98 street, and was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital in Cranston's auto.

On Tea and Coffee

Protest Removal of Subsidies

Protesting the removal by the federal government of subsidies on tea and coffee, resulting in an increase of four cents per pound in the price of coffee, and ten cents per pound on tea, the Edmonton Housewives' League have sent a resolution requesting the restoration of subsidies on these commodities. The resolution has been sent to the prime minister and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at Ottawa.

THE RESOLUTION WAS PASSED, because it was felt that the increase in prices of these staple foods "will further decrease the living standards of the Canadian people, especially of those in the low income brackets."

The resolution read that "we urge the federal government to immediately restore the subsidies for tea and coffee and roll back the prices."

It was signed by Mrs. Florence Romeyn, secretary, and Mrs. Ann Swankey, chairman of the Housewives' League.

Paris Meeting Said Success

Former Deputy Minister Returns from Conference

DR. G. FRED McNALLY

Back in Edmonton after a conference in Paris attended by 200 delegates representing 44 countries in the United Nations' Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, Dr. G. Fred McNally, former deputy minister of education in Alberta, termed the conference "entirely successful" and the prospects of education and rehabilitation of Europe's children and youth "very bright."

THE SESSIONS lasted three weeks, concluding Dec. 10.

"The delegates met in complete unanimity," said Dr. McNally, "and our sessions took the form of a round-table discussion. There was nothing contentious in our objects — we knew the end toward which we were working, and had only to determine the ways and means by which those ends might be accomplished."

Chairman of a committee to look after the education of Europe's children, scattered and allowed to go uneducated and uncared for during the war years and its aftermath, has already been appointed, Dr. McNally said.

A PART OF THE permanent staff of UNESCO, with an additional committee consisting of members-at-large in different countries of the world, will comprise the committee which during 1947 and 1948 will work to set up a workable system of education for these children.

Dr. McNally is confident the committee will be successful in its undertaking. Because the objects of the committee are well-known and the determination of the organization is shared by all, he sees success for the venture.

After his conference here, Col. Campbell will return to Ottawa.

To Carry Out Inspection

To Plan Block Changes For Delinquents' Home

Members of the provincial and civic child welfare committees will inspect the South Edmonton civic block Tuesday afternoon to determine the structural alterations to be made to the building to provide a suitable detention home for juvenile delinquents, it was announced Monday by Mayor Harry Ainlay.

The provincial and municipal governments are co-operating in the alterations, and also in the maintenance of the home.

Mayor Ainlay stated also that the provincial government is anxious to see the Edmonton home for veterans' children operates at capacity, and is prepared to make contributions toward its operation. He said the amount of the contribution was not determined at the conference held Saturday between members of the Civic Child Welfare Committee and a similar committee established by the provincial government.

The members of the civic committee are Mayor Harry Ainlay, Aldermen J. R. Munro and H. E. Tanner, and Frank Drayton, superintendent of child welfare. Walter Hunter, assistant superintendent, attended Saturday's meeting in the absence of Mr. Drayton, who is at present in hospital.

Face Heavy Business Agenda

Many Delegates Expected At 5th AFU Convention

About 35 delegates to the Alberta Farmers' Union convention had arrived in the city by noon Monday with many more arriving hourly by car, train and bus, R. J. Boutillier, secretary-treasurer of the organization, said today.

THE AFU board and executive were rushing last minute preparations for the annual meeting which opens Tuesday for the balance of the week in the Towers building, formerly the Empire Theatre.

Considered by many to be the most important convention in the farm union's history, estimates of the number of delegates who will be in attendance range from 500 at the lowest to the unprecedented number of 1,500.

THE CONVENTION probably will see considerable discussion of reports and a vast number of resolutions are included on the AFU'S unprecedented farm products withholding strike instituted last Sept. 6 and suspended after a month's duration, during which there were a number of prosecutions, with several jail terms, imposed upon members for their picketing activites.

Union officials have declared that the jail sentences of their members were considered out of all proportion to the offences committed, and appeals have been made for a review to the minister of justice.

HIGH ON THE LIST of important matters which will come before the convention is the question of amalgamation with the United Farmers of Alberta. The Alberta Federation of Agriculture, which will be the receiving farm body fusing both the AFU and the UFA if they approve the merger, has already voted for amalgamation at their recent convention in Calgary.

This vote by the AFA members was unanimous, and included six members of the Alberta Farmers' Union board and executive.

Police Probing Report of Shooting

A wild bit of shooting with a .22 rifle took place recently near the home of H. W. Rich, 11705 90 street, according to a report received by city police. Mr. Rich said that several bullet holes were in his garage and three of the missiles had struck his automobile which was in the garage at the time. Two of the bullets went through the body of the vehicle while another broke a window in one of the doors. Police are investigating the complaint to see who has been doing the shooting.

Air Service In Operation

Including two infants and one older child, Northwest Airline's newly inaugurated tri-weekly plane for Anchorage passed through Edmonton Saturday with eight passengers for Alaska, Lee Huston, station manager for Northwest Airlines here, said Monday.

The passengers left Minneapolis earlier in the day and arrived at Anchorage around midnight after a second nonstop flight of more than 1,500 miles.

Coupled with the announcement of arrival in Tokyo Sunday of the first survey flight to the Orient via the northwest air passage, Northwest's commercial service appeared to be away to a most successful start.

Hold Conference Wainwright Park

Conferring with Premier Ernest Manning early Monday morning on matters concerning the proposed use of Wainwright Park for military purposes were Basil Campbell, assistant deputy minister of defence, and Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, CBE, general officer commanding, Western Army Command.

The conference will extend throughout the day, said the premier, adding there were no announcements to make from the morning's proceedings.

At Ottawa announcement last week said the defence department was considering use of the park for training purposes, and although control of the park is under the federal government, opinion of provincial officials was being sought on various aspects regarding the park area as a suitable site for military training.

WITH MILITARY District 13 headquarters now transferred from Calgary to Edmonton, the question of housing for military personnel about to be transferred was believed to be part of the subjects to come under discussion between the premier and the army officials.

Camaraderie of Wartime Is Reborn at Banquet

AT RENUNION: Photos above were taken while the reunion of the 49th Battalion The Loyal Edmonton Regiment Association was underway Saturday night in the Macdonald hotel. About 500 former 49th Battalion and Loyal Edmonton Regiment members attended. Top picture depicts a highlight of the evening, the presentation of a plaque, replica of the LER badge, to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. Left to right are, F. T. C. Jefferson, association president and former LER commander. Third from the top shows a group seated at the banquet table: Left to right are, R. E. Bas of Edmonton, Dave L. Crozier, St. Albert, a wheel chair patient from the Colonel Newburn Pavilion, R. C. Hidson and an unidentified comrade. Bottom picture brought together a group of old friends, some from the First World War and some from the Second, and two who took part in both. Left to right back row: J. Archuk, Edmonton, World War Two; John H. Adams, Edmonton, World War Two; M. F. H. Browse, veteran of both wars; front row, left to right, R. J. Pratley, Edmonton, two-war-veteran, B. C. "Doc" Miller, Wenatchee, Wash., World War One.

Camaraderie of war was reborn here Saturday night when 500 fighting men, who saw service in two titanic world conflicts, were reunited at the annual banquet of the 49th Battalion Association in the Macdonald hotel. Many a laugh—with perhaps a hidden tear or two — resounded throughout the banquet hall as old war stories brought back old memories.

PROCEEDINGS got underway when the members lead by the battalion's piper, Alex Thomson, and former 49th Battalion and Loyal Edmonton Regiment commanders, filed into the hall to the regimental tune of "Bonnie Dundee."

Highlight of the evening was a toast to the regiment's sister battalions and presentation of a plaque, replica of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment's badge, to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Former commander of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment in Italy and Northwest Europe, J. R. Stone, made the presentation to Cameron Ware, one-time commanding officer of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. Mr. Stone also paid tribute to the other sister regiments which are; the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, who served in the same brigade as the LER during the Second Great War; Royal Canadian Regiment and 42nd Royal Highlanders of Canada (Black Watch), sister regiment during 1914-18.

IN REPLY TO the toast and upon acceptance of the plaque, Mr. Ware said it would always hold a place of honor in the "Pats" mess, and was a mark of friendship that had been cemented by two wars.

Formality was quickly dispensed with and no long speeches were made. J. C. Jefferson, associate president and former LER commander, said he wanted to give members all the time possible to renew acquaintances. A large number of the comrades came from various parts of Canada and had not met their friends since the cessation of hostilities.

There were also two association members from the US present. They were B. C. "Doc" Miller from Wenatchee, Wash., a member of the 49th Battalion in World War One; and Tex Wilkins, well-known as a wrestler in the regiment during World War Two, who came all the way from Florida to greet old friends.

KENNETH J. ROOTES of Edmonton and David Crozier of St. Albert, two wheel chair patients from the Colonel Mewburn pavilion, who were both seriously wounded while serving with the LER in Italy were on hand to meet former regimental chums.

Many father and son parties could be seen around the hall, such as Jock Scott and his son Robert, veterans of World War Two. Another son Thomas, also with the regiment was killed during the fighting in Sicily. Arthur McCormick of Forest Heights, a member of the battalion in the 1914-18 war, was present with his son Arthur Jr., a veteran of World War Two, who was taken prisoner-of-war six days after the LER landed in Sicily.

A TOAST TO THE City of Edmonton was proposed by E. B. Wilson, following an address of welcome by Mr. Jefferson. Mayor Harry Ainlay replied to the toast and said the city was proud to have such a fine regiment carry its name, and that he was also happy to be able to state that Edmonton had done more for its veterans than any other city in Canada.

A toast to the fallen comrades was given by R. V. Patterson, association 2nd vice-president. Secretary of the association, Bert Hidson, read correspondence from sister regiments and many members who were unable to be present. W. T. Cromb, a former commander of the LER, lead the veterans in a sing-song of many old regimental favorites, with the assistance of Alan Macdonald, a former officer with the regiment.

THOSE SEATED at the head table were; J. R. C. Carter, E. W. Day, George Beaton, J. W. H. Williams, F. T. Pinnell, J. R. Stone, E. B. Wilson, Msgr. M. C. O'Neill (association padre), Mayor Ainlay, J. C. Jefferson, Cameron Ware, W. T. Cromb, A. J. Hidson, W. G. Stillman, Philip Debney, Harper Prowse, MLA, J. T. Ferguson, F. A. Bryant and Jim Foote.

Plan Sugar Beet Plant

Erection of a $2,750,000 sugar beat processing plant in the Eastern Irrigation District, east of Calgary, is planned by Eastern Irrigation District officials, E. W. Brunsden, manager of the district, said here Monday.

On January 10 a canvas of farmers residing in the district will commence to ascertain their attitude toward the proposed plant, Mr. Brunsden said.

Part of the money required for the plant would be obtained through sale of $100 shares to the farmers, providing approval of the plan is given by a majority of the latter.

Work on the plant would start in the near future if the plan is approved by the residents of the district, Mr. Brunsden said.

Continued mild weather is forecast today by the Dominion weather office, with the high temperature set at 40 degrees for Tuesday. Low temperature Monday evening will be 23 degrees.

Hints Increase In Rentals Soon

Reply to the protest sent the Wartime Prices and Trade Board regarding the possible increase of rents has been received from Donald Gordon, chairman of the WPTB, by W. J. Williams, MLA executive secretary, Branch No. 24, Canadian Legion. In the reply Mr. Gordon stated that "some upward adjustment of rents may prove necessary in future."

The Legion protested the possibility of such an increase in a resolution sent to Wartime Prices and Trade Board Dec. 18. "We feel that an increase in rents is not justified," said Mr. Williams, "unless there is a corresponding increase in assessment of property."

City Issues More Permits to Build

Report Banner Year for Mail

Christmas 1946 proved a banner season for mails at the Edmonton post office, resulting in "substantial increases in revenue, and in all types of mail passing through the post office," it was announced today by post office officials.

REVENUE FOR the month of December, 1946 was $20,000 over December, 1945. There was an increase, also, of 350,000 letters going through the cancelling machines, over last year. This increase represents an upward trend in every type of mail, letters, registered mail and packets.

The increase was not anticipated, it having been thought that with service personnel returned to the city, mails to other parts of Canada and overseas would fall off. Such was not the case, the volume of business mail having more than made up the volume of mail previously sent to service folk.

FURTHER, AN increase in revenue for the total year was experienced by the post office. "Revenue for the calendar year ending Dec. 31 was $78,863.84 over that of the last year," it was stated.

"Mail Early" campaigns carried on during December was "remarkably successful," officials stated. The response of the public to the admonitions of the post office to get their mails in early was " marvellous," it was said," and the post office was able to keep abreast of the peak-load of mails at all times."

The campaign resulted in mail being cleared through the post office in an efficient and orderly fashion at all times.

$33.000 is Raised From Seal Sales

Substantial sum of $33,000 has been collected this year by the Kinsmen club of Edmonton, from the sale of Christmas seals, it was announced today by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, Calgary.

"WE ARE WELL ON our way to the $42,500 mark set by the Alberta association as the Kinsmen club quota for Northern Alberta," said R. D. Ferrier, chairman of the tuberculosis seal sale committee.

"We know that some people overlooked mailing their donation during the rush of the Christmas and New Year holiday, but are confident that many letters will be received during the next week, and our quota will be attained.

"The many thousand supporters of this cause," said Mr. Ferrier, "know that tuberculosis takes no holiday and that preventive work must be continued throughout the year." Donations should be mailed to the Kinsmen club of Edmonton, Heintzman Hall.

THE ALBERTA Christmas Seal fund is now $85,700, it was further announced by Eric Connelly, president of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. This is $14,000 ahead of the same date last year," he said, "but we are keeping the books open until the $100,000 objective is realized."

Road Kept Open Despite Weather

Heavy snow and very severe weather conditions along the entire length of northwest highway system failed to interrupt the flow of essential traffic along Canada's link with Alaska during December.

ALASKA FOOD CONVOYS and other traffic got through to their destinations regularly through temperatures along the routes ranged around the 50 below mark most of the time. At Watson Lake an unofficial low of 74 degrees below zero created considerable hardship for both truckers and army engineers who are keeping the highway passable.

At the northern end of the highway the highest noon temperature recorded during December was 18 below and the lowest entered on the log was a mere minus 68 degrees.

GLACIAL ACTION at points along the road called for continual work in the sub-zero temperatures by Royal Canadian Engineers and construction of two new bridges is continuing in preparation for the spring break-up.

Collection of Tax Arrears Set Record

Collections of arrears of land and property taxes during 1946 totaled $1,442,262 for an all-time record, compared with $1,342,262 for 1945, an increase of $99,882, according to figures released Friday by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

SALES OF LAND that had reverted to the city for taxes accounted for $1,150,357 of the 1946 arrears collected, the balance, $291,905 coming from current tax arrears. In 1945 land sales accounted for $1,003,794 of that year' total with current arrears contributing $338,585.

Business tax collections for 1946 amounted to $322,962.59 compared with $302,727.10 an increase of $20,235.49. Arrears of business taxes collected totaled $11,516.06 in 1946 against $11,715.28 in 1945.

CURRENT LAND TAX collections for 1946 amounted to $4,022,688.13 compared with $3,747,227.55 in 1945, an increase of $275,460.58.

Collections from all tax sources for 1946 amounted to $5,799,429.61 compared with $5,404,050.52 for 1945, an increase of $395,379.09.

B Catarrh, sinus and antrum infections with resultant bronchitis and bronchial asthma are commonly due to a group of bacteria. Lantigen 'B' is a solution of antigens derived from these bacteria.

C Rheumatism, arthritis, and neuritis are believed frequently due to focal infection. Lantigen 'C' contains antigens of the organisms from these foci of infection.

D Pimples, boils, carbuncles and abscesses are commonly due to staphylococci albus and aureus. Lantigen 'D' contains antigens of staphylococci albus and aureus.

"Tell me doctor...

If it's catching, how am I going to keep it from spreading all through the house? In a big hospital, of course, you can take all sorts of special precautions, but at home ..."

In fighting infection in your own home, learn from the hospital. Modern science provides you with a powerful weapon against the germs that cause so many all-too-common infections. In the leading maternity hospitals in Canada, and in almost every hospital in the British Empire — doctors, surgeons and nurses protect their patients, and protect themselves, with 'Dettol'. And 'Dettol' is at your own drug store now!

Strange as it seems — here is a highly efficient germicide, tested and proved in literally millions of cases — and it is non-poisonous; it does not even stain linen. It is a clean, clear fluid, pleasant in smell and so safe that a child could use it.

Thus 'Dettol', so deadly to germs, is kind to you. On the cut or scratch that may fester, in the room from which infection may spread, on your own hands when you act as nurse, use 'Dettol', as hospitals do. That is the safe way to safety.

DETTOL
THE MODERN ANTISEPTIC

When you are the nurse

HANDS Before and after treating a wound or attending to an infectious case, wash your hands with a 5% solution of 'Dettol' in water (4 tablespoonfuls to one quart of water).

LINEN Sterilize bed and other linen by soaking it in 2½% 'Dettol' (4 tablespoonfuls to half a gallon of water).

UTENSILS Sickroom utensils and sanitary appliances should be sterilized by immersion in 2½% of 'Dettol' (2 tablespoonfuls to 1 quart of water).

BATHING When washing the patient in bed, and when bathing yourself, add 'Dettol' to the water.

MINOR INJURIES Clean the injury and surrounding skin with cotton wool or gauze dipped in a mixture of a tablespoonful of 'Dettol' with a tumblerful of water; then cover with dry gauze or lint.

FOR GARGLING 10 to 20 drops of 'Dettol' in a tumblerful of warm water is recommended.

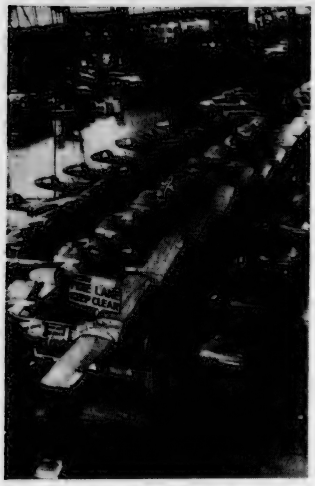
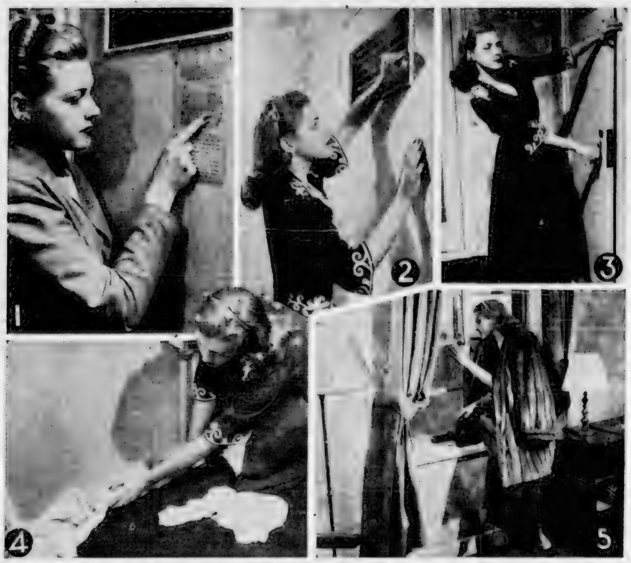
EXPERTS LIST SIMPLE RULES TO FOLLOW IN CASE OF HOTEL FIRES

PILGRIMS FIND HOLY LAND LITTLE CHANGED SINCE DAYS OF CHRIST

Copyright, 1946, by Acme Newspictures, Inc.

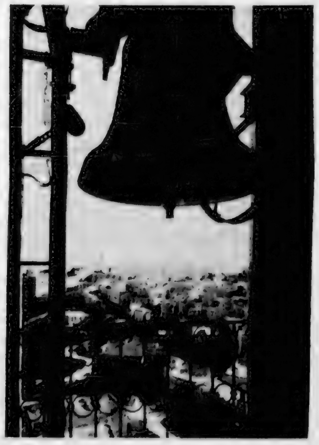


GUIDED MISSILES—This general view of the manufacturing section of the Naval Air Modification Unit, in Philadelphia, shows Navy production of the latest designs and improvements in guided missiles. Small planes, background, can be converted for pilotless flying.

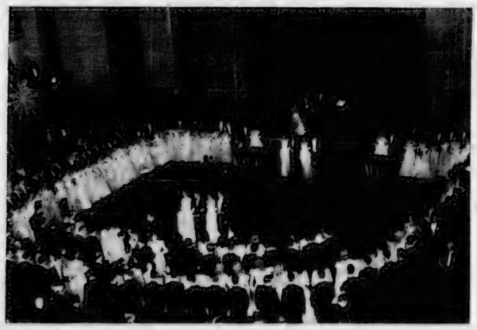


WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF FIRE—The National Board of Fire Underwriters, after studying the disastrous results in lost lives in hotel fires in 1946, recommends these rules to be followed in case of fire in either hotels or large, multi-storied apartment buildings. (1) Read carefully all instructions to guests posted in hotel rooms. Always check the route to the nearest escape stairway. (2) Fumes from the smoke-filled corridor enter the room through the transom. These fumes are poisonous and kill quickly. Close the transom. (3) Feel the door for heat, then open it slightly putting hand across the crack to test whether a hot draft is entering from the corridor. Hold head away to avoid hot gases. Brace foot against the door to prevent rush of hot gases from forcing it open. (4) If corridor is filled with hot gases, close door tightly, using any means to stop openings or cracks through which smoke can enter. Use wet towels to plug crack under door. Bedclothes and mattresses also can be used. Flames will require half an hour or more to burn through a heavy wooden door. (5) After all openings in the door are plugged and the room is free of smoke, sit by the window and await rescue or until fire is extinguished. Open window slightly to get fresh air.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HOLY LAND—[illegible] of pilgrims who [illegible] processions through the [illegible] and olive groves of ancient Bethlehem, to worship during the Christmas season found it little changed in the centuries since the birth of Christ. The Palestinian shepherd (above) [illegible] much the same as his Biblical counterpart who tended his flocks in the country [illegible] the night Christ was born. The church bell (bottom) rang out the beginning of Christmas Day. The little town of Bethlehem can be seen in the distance through the church's bars.



HOME AGAIN—Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President, and his movie actress wife, Faye Emerson, arrive at La Guardia Field in New York City after a tour of Russia and Poland. The couple plans to stay at Hyde Park temporarily.



MASS DEBUT—More than 100 white and silver gowned New York City debutantes made their collective formal bow to society at the 11th Annual Debutante Cotillion and Christmas Ball at the Waldorf-Astoria. This view from the balcony of the hotel's Grand Ballroom shows the Grand March. The affair was one of the highlights of the Christmas social season.

FREED—Mildred E. Gillars, the notorious "Axis Sally," has been released from the military intelligence center at Oberussel, Germany. She had been held for alleged treasonable activities.

WINTER IN PRAGUE—Symbols of Prague's ancient splendor are capped with snow. In the background are Hradcany Castle and the spires of St. Vitus Cathedral. Charles Bridge, with its statues of saints, (center), leads over the ice-bound Vltava River to the heart of the city.

SWIMMER — Doris Todd (above) has been chosen 1947 Swim for Health Queen at Miami Beach, Fla. Here she holds the winner's trophy.

FASHIONS FOR CHILDREN—INTERNATIONAL DIVISION—Children of United Nations personnel try to concentrate on clothes and ice cream at the same time during a fashion show for youngsters in New York City. Robin Morgan, five, models a dress designed to be worn when a child sits for her first portrait.

MODEL OF WAR MEMORIAL—Adriano Benedetto puts the finishing touches to a model of a statue he designed in Rome to commemorate World War II. Statue will be erected in Washington, D.C., if accepted. Plans call for a base 400 feet long and for the statue itself to be 700 feet high.

Five Women and 92 Men

It's Five and Ninety Two in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra this Season

CHICAGO, Ill., (BUP) Jan. 6 — It's five and 92 in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra this season — five women and 92 men.

During the war — and the accompanying musical manpower shortage — there were eight women in the orchestra. But the five who remain know they are there on a basis of ability. They can hold their own with the 92 men musicians.

There's little Geraldine Vito — they call her Jerry — who has black hair and black, snapping eyes and plays the harp. Miss Vito is the only one of the group who was in the orchestra before the war.

She comes from a family of harpists. Her father — who has directed all her musical studies — is first harpist with the Chicago Symphony, and she is second harpist.

ELEVEN YEARS ago when Miss Vito joined the orchestra, she was the only woman member. There had been other women harpists before, but in those days, participation by women in a symphony orchestra usually was limited to the harp.

Music plays a major role in Geraldine Vito's life. But she lives a full life aside from her work. Like her four women colleagues, she likes to read and dance in her spare time. And she gets a lot of pleasure from her collections of miniature boxes and dolls. She has all kinds of dolls, from the rag variety to Indian "good luck" dolls made from rabbit feet and beads.

Mrs. Alice Baker, a cellist with the Chicago Symphony, also is a collector. When she has time, Mrs. Baker prowls in attics and second hand stores for antique furniture. Some day, she says, she's going to refinish it and use it in her home.

Mrs. Baker — a lively, friendly blonde — likes to cook, too. She says:

"THIS IS FORTUNATE, because my husband is an appreciative customer of food."

Baker, a four-year veteran who served with the navy in the Pacific, now is a student at the University of Chicago. He plays the viola and plans to become a professional musician when he completes his studies next spring. He met his wife when they played in the same string quartette at Northwestern University.

Mrs. Baker isn't the only woman cellist with the Chicago Symphony. Blonde, blue-eyed Jenska Siebos — a native of The Netherlands — also plays the cello. She received her musical education in her homeland.

Miss Siebos joined the orchestra in 1944. Before that she had been first cellist with the Chicago Civic Orchestra and the Illinois Symphony Orchestra and a staff cellist for a radio network.

SHE SAYS:

"I like the United States and Chicago but sometimes I become lonely for The Netherlands and would like to visit my small home town, Sanahport" (San'-ah-poort).

Then she adds thoughtfully: "But I do not know whether I would like to live there again."

Tall, blonde Helen Kotas, who plays solo horn with the Chicago Symphony, is an outdoor girl at heart. Her favorite sport is fishing.

Besides her position with the symphony, she also plays with the Chicago Women's Symphony Orchestra. She was with the All-American Youth Orchestra until it disbanded at the start of the war.

The baby of the group of women in the Chicago Symphony is 22-year-old Peggy Hardin—a chubby, pretty girl with light-brown hair and bright blue eyes. Peggy plays the flute.

Her favorite recreation is riding horses, and she says she loves all animals. But she devotes most of her time to her music.

Peggy joined the symphony only last year. Before that she had been with the Chicago Civic Orchestra and the Kansas City Philharmonic.

Although she's the youngest woman player in the Chicago Symphony, she shares a deep love of music and a deep determination with her older colleagues —they are determined to do so well that the day when symphony orchestras were all-men organizations is gone forever.

Witness Holds Left Is Right

CAPETOWN - (CP) - A woman who entered the witness box in magistrate's court here recently was told to raise her right hand and take the oath. She raised her left hand and swore to tell the truth.

"Your right hand," admonished the magistrate. Again she raised her left hand. "You must raise your right hand," insisted the magistrate.

"I'm left-handed, your honor," she replied.

Six Women Sworn In As Members

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (CP)—Six women were sworn in as members of the 80th Congress Friday. A seventh, Helen Gahagan Douglas (Dem.—Calif.) was grounded at Kansas City. She also was suffering from poison ivy.

Taking a front row seat on the Republican side where Clare Boothe Luce sat in the old 79th congress was another Republican good-looker, the socially prominent Mrs. Kathrine St. George of Tuxedo Park, NY.

Mrs. St. George and Georgia L. Lusk (Dem.-NM.) were the only new woman members. The former wore a black suit with gold buttons and a huge gold elephant on the lapel, a yellow chiffon blouse embroidered with sequins and low necked black pumps.

Mrs. Lusk, in black with white blouse, wore a blue feather hat, against house custom. Just before answering roll call, however, she removed the chapeau.

Hale And Hearty On 100th Birthday

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados, Jan 4 (CP) — The daughter of a freed negro slave, Mrs. Mary Ann Burnett celebrated her 100th birthday Friday and told interviewers she was "hale and healthy."

Mrs. Burnett was born nine years after slaves in British colonies were given their freedom. Her father, born in slavery at the time of the Battle of Waterloo, was given the name of Wellington after the victorious duke.

Married in 1873, Mrs. Burnett had 10 children, five of whom still live. One of her two sons is a New York druggist and the other a blacksmith in Trinidad.

Rice Crop Grown By Aussie Women

LEETON Australia, -(CP)—Two sisters who have managed a mixed 525-acre farm in this New South Wales district for 25 years have proved that women can succeed at rice farming in Australia.

THEY ARE Margaret and Lois Grant, whose father, Donald Grant, celebrated his 101st birthday last year.

The Grant property grows rice, oats, fruit and vegetables, and in 1929 won the first prize ever given for an Australian rice crop. It was one of the first of six farms in the district to grow rice well, and Mr. Grant and Miss Margaret Grant sold the crop in Melbourne for £15 ($48) a ton.

THE GRANT home is a comfortable, English-style bungalow which the sisters designed themselves. Around the lounge-room walls are rare Chinese prints which have been in the family for several hundred years. Doulton china, early pewter mugs and other family treasures from England are along the mantlepiece.

Mr. Grant came to Australia in 1865 after receiving a grant from the Duke of Sutherland for military service. He worked for nine years on a station of 300,000 sheep in the Riverina district of southern New South Wales, and became station manager. His two daughters were born there, and the family went to the Leeton district in 1912.

AT THAT time rice had not been established in the Leeton irrigation area, so Margaret and Lois decided to run the farm as partners and plant 16 acres of rice in addition to their other crops.

Lois Grant, the younger sister, manages the finance and accounts of the farm, Margaret supervises the farm work.

Deserted Wives Now Get Divorce

PRETORIA, South Africa, -(CP)- South African wives whose husbands are living in Britain now may obtain divorce decrees in the South African courts as well as orders for the resitution of conjugal rights and decrees of nullity.

An official statement says that the governor-general now is satisfied that adequate provision is made by the law of the United Kingdom for the recognition by British courts of such decrees and orders made in the Union by virtue of the Matrimonial Causes Jurisdiction Act of 1945.

This act provides that where the parties have separated before having settled in the country of the husband's domicile, the wife can bring an action in the South African supreme court provided she was domiciled in the union, immediately before her marriage.

The operation of the act is retroactive to Sept 6, 1939 - the date of the union's entry into war — and is designed to lessen the suffering of wives whose husbands deserted them during the war and left for the country of their domicile.

Report Urges Improved Care

BY DENISE DALTROFF
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 4 -(CP)- Working class wives have to put up with more distress and suffering in childbirth than others, says a report of the Eugenics Society which inquired into the social and economic problems of childbearing.

Three out of every five women, who are wives of professional men in Britain, get relief from pain in childbirth but with the wives of manual workers the ratio is one in five.

DR. J. V. B. DOUGLAS, a member of the Royal Commission on Population, gave these figures and added that one mother in four among manual workers has a child at home—usually overcrowded—compared with one in 10 for white collar workers and one in 20 for the professional and employer class.

"You would expect equality of treatment in the same kind of institution," said Dr. Douglas, "but the facts are that although the majority of better-off women have their own doctors, others rely mainly on midwives."

This difference in care and attention ran all through the course of childbearing. Wives from higher income groups never left hospital before the tenth day while the manual worker's wife might have to leave five days after the birth.

ONLY ONE quarter of the former class started a full day's work in the house 15 days after the childs birth against one in two of manuel workers.

"This inequality of care among women of different incomes in this country," said Dr. Douglas, "is being paid for in ill-health of mothers, and the aim of any national health service should be to achieve equality."

Lady Juliet Rhys-Williams, vice-chairman of the National Birth Trust Fund founded in 1928 to give relief in childbirth to all said, "it is most deplorable to find that after nearly 20 years we have got no further than this."

Long Engagements Insure Happiness

How long should a couple be engaged before they get married? Doctor Adams, the famous founder and director of the Marriage Counseling Service at Pennsylvania State College, finds hasty marriage to be the most frequent cause of martial failure, and he is strong for the value of a long engagement.

He thinks that two years is the minimum of time in which the party of the first part and the party of the second part can find out enough about each other's dispositions and characters and manners and morals to be certain that they want to spend the balance of their lives together.

HOW TRUE these words of wisdom are we are having tragically proven to us just now when the world is swamped in a high tide of domestic misery, brought about by snap marriages entered into on the impulse of the moment, or a couple of cocktails. Boy meets girl, and because they like the same kind of pie they decide that they are predestined soulmates and rush off to the nearest justice of the peace to tie the knot. Or they marry perfect strangers because all the other youngsters are doing it, or because they have the idiotic notion that there is something particularly romantic in falling in love at first sight.

And so we have had the quick-order marriages that have given us the all-high divorce record that was the automatic result when those who had married in a hurry got their bargain home and took a second look at it and found they had lost their taste for it. But you can't call off a marriage as easily as you can a date to the movies, and behind these divorces are the hordes of fatherless little children, the grass widows, who are still children themselves, struggling with jobs they have never been trained to fill to try to support their children, and the old parents who are always the victims of their sons' and daughters' unhappy marriages.

OF COURSE, every marrigae is bound to be something of a gamble, but there would be very few that would take two years to study not only their fitness for the job they are contemplating taking on, but whether the one they are thinking of tying up with for a life partner will be easy to get along with, or not.

It takes time and study for any man and woman to really get acquainted with each other, and without the long engagement that is an impossibility, for between them lies the barrier of sex that keeps them from ever perfectly understanding each other. And there is the glamor of romance that makes them blind to each other's peculiarities. And there is the unconscious deception of their putting the best foot foremost during courtship.

All of these safeguards against a mistake in marriage are lost in a brief engagement, but in a long engagement they can be a life saving station. On the safe side of the altar they can get a line on each other's little peculiarities and be able to decide whether their virtues outweigh their faults.

An engagement should be regarded as an option on the hearts and hands of the interested parties, which they are free to take up, or leave, without prejudice to either party. That would make the two-year-plan-engagement a sure thing for being happy though married.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Earl Ackerman of San Francisco, vice president of the American Contract Bridge League, and his wife Mabel are one of the strongest tournament pairs on the Pacific coast. They had a real holiday at the California-All-Western tournament at Coronado. They won the California masters' pair championship, finished third in the open pairs, second in the All-Western mixed teams-of-four.

Mrs. Ackerman is a deceptive player and is always on her toes. West opened the deuce of spades against her six heart contract on today's hand. Knowing West as a player who never led awy from a king, Mrs. Ackerman was certain that the spade finesse would fail, and if it failed, the opponents' ace of diamonds would defeat her contract.

She weighed the idea of going up with dummy's ace of spades and dropping the jack from her own hand, then leading a small spade from dummy, to give East the impression that she was going to ruff the spade and try to establish the queen. If East made the mistake of playing low, the contract would be made

On the other hand, West had led the deuce of spades, and East was a smart player. If East did go up with the king on the second spade, West would have a chance to make a suit-directing play telling his partner to shift to the higher of the two minor suits.

Mrs. Ackerman decided to put East to the guess immediately, so she played low from dummy on the first spade trick and East won with the king. Now he had to decide whether to lead a club or a diamond. Although South had bid clubs, it was a forced bid, and East chose to lead a club, giving Mrs. Ackerman her contract.

The play of the nine of spades by West on East's king would be a variation of the suit-directing play. I have written very little about this play lately because it is frequently abused. Use normal discards and employ a suit-directing discard only when that is the one point of information that you want to convey.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

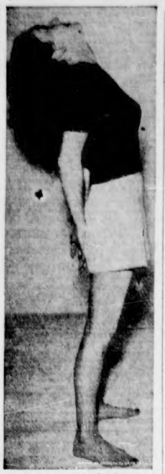
There's no use denying it. We simply have to work for what we look like. Unless we give ourselves special care in many small matters we begin to bulge and wrinkle up in a most discouraging way from the time we're 30.

TODAY I AM thinking of the neckline and what a giveaway it is to age. We often see young looking faces over old looking necks. The lovely contours of youth are gone with the years, unless we remain firm through invested effort. Neck exercises are a valuable part of every woman's beauty routine. If you have a double chin you can get rid of it and if diminishing tone is your problem, you can make great improvement.

Try this exercise: Stand tall with your hands clasped behind you. Very slowly lower your head backward until you feel the pull of the muscles under your chin. Raise the head slowly to erect posture. There are two schools of thought concerning neck exercises. One believes that the under chin muscles should not be stretched while the other feels that this is most important.

I belong to the latter school because most of the women I have known with beautiful necks have had them stretched regularly, and not at the end of a rope.

....THE FOLLOWING exercise will increase firmness. Lie on your bed on your back with your head and shoulders hanging off the edge. Lift the head and touch the chin to the chest. Lower head and let it hang over the edge of the bed again. Continue raising and lowering head, touching the chin to the chest each time you raise it.



Don't let your neck give away your age. The exercise you see Actress Joan Winfield doing here will help you keep the secret.

If you wish to have my exercises for the chinline and neck, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10 "Is Your Chinline A Pain In the Neck?" addressing Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It is noticeable that mothers no longer worry about the process of babies' teething. Chalk up one triumph for the constant reiteration that teething is a natural process and goes on continuously from the pre-natal period to about the third year of life.

There was a time when teething was one of the mother's acute anxieties. If there were no teeth at the fifth to the seventh month, then she worried about that. If he baby spit up, or had a little fever or acted cranky, or failed to sleep, she put it down as expected conduct because he was teething. During hot weather she starved the child for fear his teeth might upset him and endured patiently the behavior that was the result of his hunger.

This, happily, is a thing of the past. I hear from enough mothers from enough communities, to assert that questions about teething lag behind all the rest. The more generous way in which babies are fed is undoubtedly the answer to it all.

It was the poorly-nourished baby who "teethed hard." And it still is, for that matter, though now it is not accepted as inescapable, but it is dealt with by improving the diet and providing the child with the materials for building strong teeth.

It is the mother whose system was denied the proper nutritional materials before the baby was born, and whose baby's diet remains inadequate and unbalanced, who may still have to worry at teething time.

The child who has a spasm when teeth are being cut, is quite often the one who has a diet minus sufficient minerals (milk, fruit, vegetables, whole grain cereals) plus the necessary vitamin D to help the body make use of these minerals in bones, teeth and nervous system. In such case it is the under-nourished nervous system which exhibits itself in behavior called convulsions.

It may be taken for granted that if a baby gets the right nourishment before birth and afterwards that he can sprout teeth with no more pain and fanfare than he adds an inch in height or a pound in weight. One growth process is as natural as the other.

Our leaflet No. 39 "Teeth," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

BUDDHA WAS NOT A SHORT, SQUAT MAN, and not CHINESE
From a Burmese Bronze

The average person has gained a mental picture of Buddha from some of the statues of him, and believes that he was short, squat, and of Chinese race. The truth is that he was quite the opposite in stature: he was quite tall and thin, had fair hair and blue eyes. He was a high caste Hindu, descended from a fairly pure strain of Indo-European stock. His father was a king of the Sakyas, a people of warrior caste, settled in the Himalayas. Buddha was born in the sixth century before Christ, spent his life wandering about preaching, and died at about the age of 80. Though many Chinese accepted Buddhaism, the religion started as an offshoot of the Hindu religion in north India.

Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .

Dear Miss Woodward: "My parents are awfully old-fashioned. I'm fourteen and they think I'm too young to have dates with the boys. And they object to my wearing lipstick even though the color I wear is only half as dark as the color most girls wear. They don't even like my girl friend . . . in fact they say she's a bad influence on me. You see, her mother is wonderful . . . she lets my friend bring her boy friends and girl friends to her home. She makes refreshments for us and lets us play the games we want (Postoffice, Flash, etc.) and lets us dance. She lets her daughter wear lipstick and stockings for best. I don't see any harm in all that . . . how can I persuade my parents they're wrong?"

Apparently your idea of a perfect parent is the one who will let you do exactly as you want to do. And since your parents do not give in that way, you think they're pretty terrible on all counts.

WOODWARD

Maybe you are too young to be having dates with boys. Lots of girls of fourteen are too young to be chasing around at night with lads their age. But fourteen is a good time to start making friends with the boys, and entertaining them at informal parties at home. You oughtn't to have too much trouble persuading your mother that the time has come for you to begin to think about being slightly social. Go to her with a list of your school friends you'd like to invite to a party . . . and see if she won't help you plan it.

As for lipstick, . . . you don't really need to wear it every day, no matter what other girls do about it. Your own complexion is fresh and colorful. You don't need the danger signal of brilliant lipstick. A little soft color put on very carefully wouldn't hurt you though when you're all dressed up in your party best. Save it for the big moments and break your family in gradually.

* * *

Dear Miss Woodward: "I'm continually in hot water with my parents because of my girl friend. We're both fourteen. When I go out with her I always get home much later than I'm supposed to. I smoke behind my father's back—and he always finds out somehow. I'm always being punished . . . for the things I do when I go out with her. She's a good girl and I like her . . . but I don't like being in the dog house because of her. What should I do?"

You'll have to decide whether running around with her is as important as staying out of trouble with your family. It seems you're punished for things you do when you're out with her. If you like being punished — carry on. But it makes better sense to see less of your girl friend and stay out of the dog house. Add up the score now. Exactly what do you do that your parents don't like? You stay out late, you smoke behind their backs, you can probably add to the list. Those are the things you get punished for. If you don't like the punishment, why do these things? If that's the way your girl friend likes to play, why play with her?

Your family has the right to lay down the rules and to punish you when you break them. It's hard enough to toe the mark all by your lonesome—without having a sidekick who coaxes you into the dog house!

Points for Parents

Not This

Son: "I'll ask Dad. I bet he'll buy me a car.

Mother: "No—don't ask him. I'll buy one for you. I love you just as much as he does—you know that,don't you?"

This

Mother: "I try to make my decisions on a basis of what seems best for you. I love you so much that I want you to be the finest person youre capable of being."

In both complete and broken families, it is essential that parents not confuse indulgence with love.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of dear little Trudy Davis, who departed this life Jan. 2, 1946.
Ever remembered by Grandma, Grandad, Wayne and Mona.

In loving memory of mother, Mrs. W. Whiting, who passed away, January 4, 1946.

One year has passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
But in our hearts she liveth still,
God took her home, it was His will.

Ever remembered by Nell, Harry, Betty and Bob.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Annie S. Heathcote, who left us on January 5, 1938.
"Father, in thy gracious keeping,
Leave we now thy servant, sleeping."
Held ever in fond remembrance by her seven daughters.

From Our Letter Box
PROVINCIAL HATCHERIES
10639-101 St., Edmonton
Dear Sir:—Why do people always Hatcheries? It is because they are Matcheries? It is because they are the surest chicks. A buyer would ask the farmer: "Where did you get such fine hens?" Why, that's simple, from Robinson's. They always have the "Best", yes, that's right, they always have the best. They grow so fast and you can be sure of them. And, if you want to know how to take better care, why, see Mr. Robinson about it. He'll give you a gold mine of information. We should honor such a man for his work in bringing out such fine chicks. Remember, get the best from Robinson's, the greatest name in Hatcheries. Sincerely, Philip Skretko. Abee, Alta.

WRONG DEDUCTION

In a London bus was a dignified man carrying a pair of women's shoes. He had evidently collected them from the repair shop, and was taking them home to his wife. But he had forgotten to supply his own wrapping material.

A man opposite was interested. Finally he leaned over, tapped the dignified one on the knee, and said with a knowing wink: "Not letting 'er gad about, eh, guv'nor?"

U. S. Will Claim Antarctic Share

WASHINGTON, (AP)— The United States plans to claim a big share of the 6,000,000-square-mile Antarctic continent, officials disclose and the strategy for clinching it will be considered upon the return of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd.

Officials concerned with Antarctic policy decisions told a reporter that conferences will be held next spring on:

1. The timing of the first formal American claim to territory in the frozen southern continent.

2. Proposals to submit rival international claims to the United Nations to avoid endless controversy.

3. The nature of future American survey and occupation efforts to follow the navy's current 13-ship expedition and the smaller independent party to leave shortly under Cmdr. Finn Ronne.

Byrd, most experienced of Antarctic explorers, is aboard the carrier Philippine Sea en route to join the navy expedition. It is due to return after four months.

The American claim is expected to be based largely on those in the northwest sector of the continent advanced by Lincoln Ellsworth and by Byrd. They said after the 1939-41 surveys that the United States could justly claim at least 1,000,000 square miles and perhaps 800,000 square miles more, extending to the South Pole.

The government policy now, as restated last week by Dean Acheson, undersecretary of state, is to rest on the claims made by individual American explorers and surveyors and to recognize none of the claims advanced by Great Britain, Chile, Norway, France and other countries.

One area of direct conflict is the Marguerite bay area due south of Cape Horn where a small British weather expedition has been dug in since 1943 on the site of Byrd's earlier East bay camp. It is to this area, claimed by Chile as well, that Ronne's group will head.

SYDNEY, Australia, (AP)— The Sydney Sun said Sunday that Australia had claimed one-third of Antarctica and probably would decline any proposal to give the United Nations control of the South Polar region.

The suggestion that the U.N. take over Antarctica was made in a Washington Post editorial, widely reprinted here.

Russia Asks U. S. Hand Over 'Rebel'

WASHINGTON, (AP)— Russia asked the United States Saturday to hand over "as a criminal" one of its citizens who walked out of his trade-mission job in Mexico and decided to stay in the United States and blast what he called "the hell of dictatorship" in his homeland.

The Soviet Union asked the state department to launch a regular manhunt for Kirill Alekseev, accusing him of embezzlement, treachery, treason, provocation, slander and failing to go home when he was supposed to.

The state department took the request under consideration. Officials doubted that the United States has an extradition agreement with Russia, but were searching the records.

In New York, Martin Richmond, the lawyer who last Tuesday made public Alekseev's statement, said Saturday night that the Russian "emphatically denies any charges of financial or other irregularities and states that they are fantastic concoctions of the Soviet officials."

Alekseev, in the earlier statement, had accused the Russian government of being a dictatorship hated by its people and said he would not put his family in its power again.

Richmond has not disclosed the whereabouts of Alekseev and his family, other than to say that they are in the United States.
